IN THE BEE TO-DAY

U. S. Dept. of Agriculture,
Weather Bureau,
Toledo, O., July 27, 1892.

The area of low pressure is central north of Lake Superior and moving eastward.

The area of high pressure which was central over the South Atlantic states, has remained stationary, and is decreasing in pressure.

An area of high pressure has advanced from the north Pacific coast during the past 24 hours, and has advanced as far east as the Dakotas.

This "high" area has caused a decided fall in temperature over the west and northwest, ranging from 10 to 20 degrees, and it will bring the present hot weather to an end over this section of the country by Thursday night. The temperature over the eastern half of the country has remained stationary during the past 24 hours, but after to-day it will become cooler.

The advance of the high area of pressure from the northwest will cause very severe local storms during the next 36 hours.

Local thunder storms have been reported from Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Pennsylvania, New York, Tennessee, Missouri, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, and Montana.

Rains have been light except at St. Paul, where 4.90 inches of rain has fallen during the past 24 hours, and over northern Michigan, where about half of an inch has fallen.

Forecast for Toledo and vicinity during the next 36 hours—Fair, with thunder storms, continued warm, followed by cooler weather by Thursday night.

The National Republican Campaign Committee

Will Take a Hand in Settling the Strike.

The Object Lesson is Altogether Too Strong

To Suit the Captains of the Grand Old Party.

O'Donnell May Have to Leave the Advisory Committee—General News From the Homestead Affair.

New York, July 27.—The Herald says: "Hugh O'Donnell, the leader of the Homestead strikers, will be here to-day to continue the negotiations with republican campaign captains, which were broken off last Wednesday when he left this city to give himself up at Homestead.

In speaking of the previous visit the Herald says that while here he was seen on the street with J. S. Clarkson and John E. Milholland, and that the latter told Mr. O'Donnell that the republican party leaders wanted to help settle the strike.

Mr. Milholland thereupon offered several plans of compromise which were, however, rejected, among them being a proposition to obtain the intercession of the president with Mr. Carnegie toward the acceptance of modified conditions.

Notwithstanding, Mr. Milholland gave Mr. O'Donnell to understand that the republican leaders had determined to try and bring about a settlement of the strike.

O'DONNELL TO RETIRE.

His Advice Was not in Line With the Strikers.

Homestead, July 27.—It is quite likely Hugh O'Donnell will resign the chairmanship of the advisory committee, if he has not already done so, and the indications are that the committee is casting about for a new leader. The break up was caused by the refusal of the committee to approve an almost unconditional surrender in the fight on hand. Mr. O'Donnell expressed himself as anxious for a settlement, even if he had to be sacrificed.

He authorized two newspaper men, F. D. Maderia, of New York, and J. Hampton Moore, of Philadelphia, to see Superintendent Potter and ascertain upon what terms the old men could return to work. When they had executed the commission O'Donnell wanted to bring them before the committee, but that body would not admit them. The rebuff undoubtedly will cause O'Donnell's resignation, as he said he would resign if his colleague did not indorse his sentiments.

The mediators called upon Superintendent Potter and wanted to know upon what terms he would accept the old employes. He said there was no vindictiveness in their dealings with the men, but they would not take back certain objectional strife-makers under any circumstances. No names were mentioned, but he said those against whom criminal charges had been preferred were among them. Even these might not be rejected if the information against them proved incorrect. He further stated that the men would not be questioned about membership in any organization, but they would be required to sign an agreement as individuals fixing the scale of wages as based on the $23 billet rate. There would be no dealings with any association or committee, except as provided in the agreement for a committee of workmen and officials to meet quarterly and fix price of billets. No men now in the employ would be discharged if the work was satisfactory. The mediators were assured that the places were being filled rapidly.

The advisory committee refused to meet the newspaper men, but said they would hear the report through the chairman. This was refused, as they had no interest in the matter except to bring the two parties together. Superintendent Potter was informed of the results and expressed regrets as the places of the old men were being rapidly filled. Mr. Curry, who was present, took occasion to deny the statement that Andrew Carnegie would interfere. He stated that in a cablegram just received Mr. Carnegie said he had no intention of returning to America at present, and that he would not interfere with the management or interpose to settle the lock-out.

SNOWDEN IS FIRM.

He Refuses to Make Any Explanation of the Iams Affair.

Homestead, Pa., July 27.—Major General Snowden still refuses to enter into any explanation of his action in the case of Private Iams to-day, but he has given out for publication the text of his endorsement of Col. Streator's report of the affair. The first endorsement had been made by Col. Hawkins, brigadier general commanding the provisional brigade. Gen. Snowden's endorsement is as follows:

Division Headquarters, N. G. of Penna.
Homestead, Pa., July 23, 1892.

Camp Col. Samuel Black:

Respectfully returned, discharge him in disgrace, drum him out of camp and send him home. By order of Major General commanding.

(Signed.) G. H. NORTH,
Adjutant General.

General Snowden's endorsement was made after Iams had been suspended by his thumbs.

NOT ENOUGH EVIDENCE.

The Carnegies Will Not Proceed Against Herr Most.

Pittsburg, July 27.—The Carnegie company, after consultation with the district attorney and chief of police and its own criminal lawyers, has decided that there is no evidence sufficient to warrant any steps being taken against Herr Most at the present time.

THEY HAD A LIST.

Were the Names on the Document Marked for Death.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 27.—Unless one or the other of the anarchists now confined in the central station can be induced to make a confession, it is very doubtful whether the police at this end can accomplish much more in the direction of unraveling the meshes of the conspiracy surrounding the attack upon the life of Chairman Frick.

The imprisoned men, contrary to the general habits or practices of the element, have for once taken the precaution to cover their tracks behind them and a thorough examination of the correspondence found in the rooms of Knold and Bauer, develops the fact that not a scrap of it bears a date within the past six weeks.

Yet it can be proven by the postoffice officials that the mail of both men has been much larger than for sometime before.

Detective Shore, who is chief of the corps in charge of the case, is satisfied that the anarchists had anticipated that a general search for damaging documents would follow the attempt upon Frick's life, and that consequently they took time by the forelock in putting all such criminating evidence out of the way.

The list of Pittsburg millionaires and their residences, which were found among Bauer's papers will, it is thought, prove an important piece of side evidence at the trial, as indicating that they have had some sinister designs in view which were directed against persons whose names had been recorded.

Among these names are those of Mr. Frick, Henry Phipps, of Carnegie, Phipps & Co.; B. F. Jones, and H. W. Oliver, the big iron operators; B. F. Vandergrift, the oil man, and two women, whose wealth exceeds a million.

Bauer sullenly refuses to make any statement regarding the objects which led to the preparation of the list or the reason it happened to be in his possession.

The police are not yet thoroughly satisfied that Bauer is the man who accompanied Berkman to the corridor of the Carnegie building on Saturday morning, although they have evidence that the suspect was with the would-be assassin in the neighborhood of the Duquesne club.

The fellow who accompanied the latter to the building is described as being tall with dark hair and moustache and detective McTighe is making an house to house search among the anarchistic colony in Allegheny for such an individual.

At one time the description seemed to fit August Adolph Von Wettach, scion of the noble Austrian family who was expelled from that country for his revolutionary ideas and has been very prominent among the anarchists in this region. Some few months ago he was sentenced to 30 days in the workhouse for talking anarchy on the street, and at that time considerable ammunition and literature of an incendiary character was found in his house.

When the detectives made a raid on the place at midnight last night, however, it was found that Wettach had a beard of a month's growth and looked very unlike the man who had been described to them. He said, moreover, that he had become disgusted with the anarchists and their group and proposed to leave them alone in future. The detectives have not given up their quest and say they will raid both cities as with a smaal-toothed comb but what they will find their man.

They consider, however, that New York is now the chief field of operation and that the ramifications will have to be sought in that city. Herr Most may thank his lucky stars that at least a brief breathing spell has been granted him. At a consultation between Messrs. Knox and Reid, private counsel for the Carnegie company, District Attorney Burleigh and Chief of Public Safety Brown, it was agreed, so it is given out, that so far sufficient evidence had not developed to warrant the request to the New York police to effect his arrest. It is just possible, however, that this is just bluff for the purpose of throwing the New York suspects off the scent.

The only suspicious facts connected with Most are that he visited Knold in this city at different times during the two weeks, commencing June 27, that he told Knold that Berkman was coming here and that the latter, when he put in an appearance at Knold's house, said that the address had been given to Most.

This is regarded as circumstantial evidence of a kind, but rather too circumstantial to be of any account in the present juncture until it is re-enforced by future development.

The arrest last night of Frederick Simmons, a prominent turner, for distributing anarchistic literature on the street, has no connection with the Russian end of the affair, but in the present excited state of the public mind, the police regard it as necessary to make an example of him.

He will be given a hearing next Tuesday for distributing literature tending toward a breach of the peace.

In his pockets were a number of tickets for the raffle in aid of the fund for the relief of the families of the executed Chicago anarchists. The circulars he was distributing called upon workingmen to become anarchists and set forth that anarchy was the only true remedy for the oppression of labor.

A naturalization certificate found among Bauer's papers shows that he was made a citizen of the United States in the superior court of New York on August 26, 1890, after having taken the necessary oath to recognize and support the constitution of the United States. Before Judge Magee this morning Attorneys Brennan and Cox filed an application for the release on bail of James Close, a mill worker, arrested at Homestead yesterday on the charge of wilful murder growing out of the riot. The hearing was set for to-morrow morning.

MR. FRICK.

Condition of the Wounded Man Stated.

Pittsburg, July 27.—The following bulletin has been issued from Mr. Frick's residence:

Mr. Frick slept soundly nearly the entire night and his condition this morning indicates a general improvement over that of yesterday. His respiration and pulse are normal, for the first time since the shooting. He has a good appetite and ate as hearty a breakfast as when in good health. Everything now points to his speedy recovery and the surgeons regard the present status of his case as unprecedented in medical history."

DIED FOR THEIR DEEDS.

Brave Men Make Fools of Themselves.

Two Adventurers Lose Their Lives While Trying to Ascend a Mountain.

City of Mexico, July 27.—The daily Anglo-American last night said that James Deernsby Walton, of Brockenhurst, England, and Henry Adams, of Bellows Falls, N. H., met a terrible death Monday while attempting to reach the highest and largest crater of volcano de Colima.

Both men were engaged in the mining business and after some bantering they decided to settle the question which were the braver, Englishmen or Americans, the test being the ascent of the volcano. They started after many difficulties and encountered an obstacle.

The guides say that with their respective flags they reached a shelving rock where a volume of ashes shot from the crater hundreds of feet into the air.

Walton and Adams, after the ashes had fallen, were seen by the guides grasping hands, each with flags flying defiance.

This was the last ever seen of the brave adventurers, for the next instant a solid volume of lava was vomited, and, reaching a height of thousands of feet, descended in a storm of fire. Walton and Adams perished in the descending fire. The guides escaped and reached Louilla yesterday and told the story of the ascent and death.

THEY CAME TOGETHER.

Terrible Crash of Two Trains on an Eastern Road.

Watertown, N. Y., July 27.—A terrific collision occurred a quarter of a mile east of Caledonia station, on the main line of the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg railroad this morning at 5:17 o'clock.

Passenger train No. 21, known as the White Mountain & Portland express, which passes through Watertown at 3:40 a. m. daily, bound east, collided with a west-bound freight; by some mistake on the part of the freight crew it was running on the passenger train's time.

Both locomotives were completely wrecked and several cars of each train were badly smashed.

No passengers were injured.

Engineer Miller, Brakeman Bennett and Car Porter Conrad were slightly injured. The track was cleared in about four hours.

THREE BIG GUNS

Greet Assistant Adjutant General Howe

On His Arrival at Camp Forsyth.

A Hot Day on the Tented Field

The Weather Interferes Somewhat With the Drill.

One of the Finest Regimental Camps Ever Held in the State—Statement of the Difficulty About Tiffin—General Camp News.

There was more business in Camp Forsyth to-day than there has been since the camp was established. Yesterday the intolerable heat prevented any drilling, and officers and men spent most of the time in trying to find a cool place, but the only man who had any degree of success was a private who took a cake of ice for a seat and then fanned himself.

Assistant Adjutant General Howe arrived in camp yesterday afternoon and was met at the boat by the officers and greeted by the booming of cannon. General Howe had just inspected the Third regiment at Woodsdale, and he came straight to Toledo in order to spend the week with the Second regiment. He was accompanied by his wife and children, and they are very comfortably quartered in a large tent back of headquarters.

The only work of yesterday was guard mount, the schools and a battalion drill just before regimental parade. The drill, considering the fact that it was the first one in camp, was very well executed, and the parade was made without a hitch and was reviewed by General Howe.

Under the new regulations the regimental parade is made with the staff officers mounted, and they made a most imposing appearance, Col. Collins especially coming in for much admiration.

After the parade the band gave a delightful concert in front of headquarters. The Second regiment band is from Kenton, and is second to no other regimental band in the state. These concerts in the evening are one of the events of the day, and are enjoyed by many visitors from the city.

Among the distinguished visitors at camp yesterday were Col. Bunker, of the Sixteenth regiment; Col. Bonner, of the governor's staff, and Major Bulger, of Fotoria; Capt. Weer, Capt. Krieger, of Fostoria, Capt. Holbrook, Quartermaster Flickinger, all of the Sixteenth regiment.

Last night Gen. Howe made the rounds of the guards in company with Col. Collins, and they found the sentries nearly all very efficient. One or two of the men were somewhat rattled when the officers appeared, but the most of them passed the inspection in good shape.

This morning there was some drilling, but on account of the excessive heat the work done was made as light as possible. On parade last evening two men were taken sick, and Col. Collins does not desire to have anything serious happen.

Several excursions were run into Presque Isle to-day, and the island is crowded with visitors, but this does not interfere with the camp. From now on there will be excursions every day the regiment is here.

Inspection will probaly occur to-morrow or Friday and Adjutant General Pocock may arrive in camp to-day.

The ladies in camp are enjoying the outing hugely, and they make it very pleasant about headquarters.

That Tiffin Company.

Owing to a mistake somewhere Company E, from Tiffin, is not in camp. No one seems to know exactly where the fault lies, but it seems to be a misunderstanding all through. The Tiffin company was mustered in last month, but they did not get their guns or uniforms until last week. It was decided by the adjutant general that the company should go to the Second regiment and be lettered E, and consequently Col. Collins kept them posted regarding this camp the same as if they were in the regiment, as it was expected that they would receive their assignment and commissions any day. They did not receive their commissions, however, and so did not come to camp.

General Howe was very much disappointed yesterday when he found that the company was not here, and he says that they could have come without them and had the camp just the same. It is an occurrence to be regretted, and it is to be hoped that it will create no ill-feeling. The officers of the Second are not to blame, as they have received no orders on the matter, and the company can not be blamed for not wanting to come to camp without their commissions. It was simply a misunderstanding.

From the tone of articles in the Tiffin papers it is very evident that the company is very much disappointed in missing the camp.

Officer of the day, Capt. Davis. Officers of the guard, Lieutenants Leibenthal and Landery.

At regimental parade last evening an order was published, accepting an invitation from Mark E. Sibley Camp Sons of Vterans. This invitation was for all Sons of Veterans in the regiment to meet the camp named at their Boat House on the Island, Friday evening.

Taps.

Mosquito netting is in great demand.

Col. Brick claims that Co. G is a rival.

The children have lots of fun about the camp.

Drum Major John Reece is a popular ladies' man.

The encampment is quite a city. There are 185 tents.

Swimming in the bay is a popular sport with the boys.

The hospital corps, under Dr. Munson, numbers eight men.

Sergeant O'Brien, of the Cadets, visited camp yesterday.

Some of the boys in Co. G had very good fishing yesterday.

A man sitting on a cake of ice, fanning himself, made an amusing sight.

Capt. M. F. Huntley visited camp yesterday and was a welcome guest.

"Captain" Paul Augustus, of Kenton, is a very important man about camp.

Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Gooding make delightful entertainers at headquarters.

Messrs. Ed Kingsbury and Joe Baird, of Perrysburg, are the guests of Company H.

There are a number of newspaper men among the members of the different companies.

Col. Brick has taken charge of the cannon, and fires the morning and evening guns.

The Second regiment is said to have the handsomest staff of officers in the state.

One of Battery D's field pieces is in use in camp to fire the sunrise and sunset salutes.

Capt. Bryant has a large comfortable tent for his family. It is located back of headquarters.

Messrs. William Gelhouse and Charles Davis, of Kenton, are the guests of company G.

Company G, of Kenton, will go to the world's fair and a trip to California is also contemplated.

Mr. E. L. Miller, of Kenton, editor of the Republican, spent yesterday and last night in camp.

Many of the ladies' tents are elegantly fitted up, and are made almost as comfortable as home.

Company H have their quarters in excellent shape and the men all have home-made bedsteads.

Capt. Kirk has charge of the non-commissioned officers' school, and he makes an excellent instructor.

The Bee received many compliments for its splendid report of the encampment. They will be continued.

Under the new drill regulations there is no "dress parade." This ceremony is now called "regimental parade."

Major A. L. Paul and family and Miss Nellie Hathaway are the guests of Capt. D. C. Long, of Company I.

Adjutant Campbell and Captain Bell are authority on tactics, and are often referred to when questions arise.

The Toledo Cadets will be invited to visit the camp on Sunday and give an exhibition drill on their bicycles.

Forsyth Post, G. A. R., is expected to visit the camp on Friday. They will be escorted by a detail from the regiment.

If some enterprising man would run a hack from the camp to the street car line at Ironville he would have good trade.

The Trinity Cadets have been invited to visit the camp in a body on Friday, and will probably accept the invitation.

Company C, from Lima, will probably give some exhibition drills during the week, and they will be well worth seeing.

Misses Gertrude Hunt and Maud Floyd, two charming young ladies from Cleveland, are the guests of Dr. Munson.

Adjutant P. A. Campbell has heavy duties to attend to, but he performs them easily and well and seems to be in a dozen places at once.

The boys have plenty of fun about camp at night, but they have been quieter than usual and the guardhouse has not had very many occupants.

First Sergeant O. P. Blue, of Co. G, Kenton, is a candiate for the republican nomination for county recorder, and he is working Co. G in great shape.

Private George Lyons, of Co. K, fell from the upper deck of the Pastime onto the gang plank last night and sustained a very sever sprain of his left knee.

Capt. Bell, of Lima, has palatial quarters. In one corner of his big tent is a regular sure enough bedstead. A number of the other officers are comfortably situated.

The majors are no longer merely ornamental officers in the regiment. They are in command of the different battalions and have plenty of work to do. The lieutenant-colonel is the only officer who has a snap.

Adjutant General Pocock will inspect the Second regiment on July 20 at Presque Isle; the Sixteenth regiment on August 2 at Fremont; the Seventeenth regiment on August 6 at Ashland, and the Eighteenth regiment on August 8 at Huron.

Sergeant Major Louis Lang has been doing double duty, in the absence of the regular bugler it has fallen to his lot to also assume the duties of that office. He is a clever and handy man to have around camp.

Capt. Johnson, of Co. F, Bellefontaine, has only held his commission six weeks, but he is a splendid officer and has a first-class company. It is especially noted for its good discipline and the excellent conduct of the men at night.

Dr. Osborne, of Fostoria, surgeon of the Sixteenth regiment, came to Toledo yesterday for the purpose of visiting the camp, but could not make proper connections on the boat and so returned home without going to the island.

Mrs. J. A. Kuert is one of the best managers in camp and is about as much captain of Company G, as her husband, who holds the commission. Both of them are extremely popular with their company and with the whole regiment.

Mr. Moulton Houk, of the T., C. & C. railroad, is a popular man about camp, and much praise is due him for the manner in which he brought the regiment in and performing the feat of concentrating eight companies from different towns on one train within six hours.

Corporal Luther Raymer and Privates Al Scott, James E. Brailey, Charles Ehni and Charles Heroder, of the Toledo Cadets, rode down to camp yesterday afternoon on their bicycles. They made the run from the armory to Presque Isle in 46 minutes.

Company G, of Kenton, Capt. J. A. Kuert, has 61 men enrolled and there are 61 men in camp. This is the third successive camp where Company G, has had the largest company in the regiment and every man enrolled present at camp—a good record.

Capt. Kirk, inspector of rifle practice will put the boys through a course of sprouts. Heretofore the regiment has had but little opportunity to become perfected in rifle practice. Capt. Kirk thinks that targets can be set up along the lake shore making first-class ranges.

LAKESIDE.

Social Gossip From the Camping Ground.

Lakeside, O., July 27.—(Special.)—Monday evening's lecture on "Ben Hur," by L. O. Amrstrong Esq., was a very entertaining and instructive lecture.

Tuesday was a day full of good things for everyone. Besides the regular classes which are always beneficial, there were three good lectures.

At 11 a. m. Rev. Russell Conwell, D. D., delighted a very large audience with his lecture on "Jolly Earthquake."

Dr. Conwell left for the west on the 12:40 p. m. train.

At 2:30 p. m., (under the direction of the W. C. T. U.) Col. George W. Bane delivered an excellent address on "Our Bill of Fare."

At 8 p. m., Dean Alfred Wright, D. D., lectured on Christ's Duty

The third grand concert of the season will be given Wednesday, July 27.

The drays come from both boats and trains loaded with trunks and boxes.

People find Lakeside cooler than most places for the past week.

Grant Elwell and Lena Beebe were married by Rev. M. T. Ayers in the auditorium at 12:30 to-day. About one hundred and twenty-five were present.

Nellie Straw and brother came from Carey this morning.

Miss Hattie Ritter is here from Cleveland.

Lillian Headley, of Cleveland, is at Miss Carlyle's cottage.

B. F. Smaltz and B. Messer are here from Tiffin.

Dr. Wright is here at the hotel. He is accompanied by his son.

R. D. Hollington, O. W. U., '92, came from Delaware Saturday.

H. F. Bruns, a prominent banker of Stryker, O., spent Sunday here.

S. N. Bryant, jr., of Geneva, O., is camping.

Notwithstanding the rush nothing but praise is heard of the way "Hotel Lakeside" is managed by Mr. Gross and his assistants, Messrs. Truesdale and Ross.

GOODWOOD STAKES.

London, July 27.—The race for the Goodwood stakes to-day was won by Mr. L. DeRothchilds' five-year-old bay horse Ralph Rothschilds' five-year-old bay horse lope. The four-year-old chestnut filly Billow, by Ocean Wave out of Queen Frederica, was second, and the four-year-old bay filly Mme. Neruda II., by Fiddler out of Alucha, was third.

BRAKEMAN KILLED.

Delphos, July 27.—(Special)—High Moreland, aged 55, a brakeman on the Clover Leaf road, and well known here, was killed at Ohio City at 8:15 o'clock this morning while making a coupling.

He was a widower and lived at Marion, Ind.

HACKED TO DEATH

James Frazer a Bank Clerk in Scotland

Becomes Suddenly Insane at His Home

And Kills Two of His Neighbors With a Sword.

After Defying a Mob of Excited Citizens,

His Wife Leads Him Coolly Home by the Arm—No Known Motive for the Awful Crime Committed.

London, July 27.—James Frazer, a bank clerk, living in the small village of Polmont, County of Sterling, Scotland, ran amuck last night in a fit of murderous madness, killed two persons and hacked another almost fatally.

Frazer has always been considered a man of quiet and rather retiring disposition, without any inclination to quarrel, much less to hurt anybody.

Last evening he came home apparently in his usual frame of mind and partook of the evening meal.

His wife noticed that he was reticent and replied to her in short answers, but she did not think anything serious of that. Frazer went out after supper and appears to have procured a sword.

About 9 o'clock in the evening Frazer suddenly rushed into the house of his neighbor's and friends, the Shadwells. He bore a drawn sword in his hand and his appearance was that of a maniac.

The Shadwells were stricken with terror by the apparition. Mr. Shadwell had barely time to gasp out, "Is that you, Jamie?" when Frazer was upon him, sword in hand.

Frazer aimed a fearful blow at Shadwell's head, but the latter evaded it and darted out of the house followed by his wife. Frazer dashed after them and overtook Mr. Shadwell at whose head the frantic pursuer again aimed a terrible blow.

This time the aim was successful and Mr. Shadwell fell stunned to the earth. Frazer kept hacking at the prostrate man with his sword until life was extinct.

Mrs. Shadwell tried to save her husband and bravely endeavored to stay the uplifted aim of the murderer.

The latter seeing the husband dead, turned upon Mrs. Shadwell and struck a blow at her head with the sword, prostrating but not stunning her.

Mrs. Shadwell fell and Frazer then lunged at her with the sword, inflicting a severe wound in the thigh. He also hacked her arm.

The blood ran in streams from the wounds and Frazer evidently thought his victim was dead.

Leaving her weltering in blood he rushed from the garden into the street. There he encountered a young woman named Mary Grindley.

Frazier at once attacked her, striking her in the head and neck and piercing her breast with the sharp point of the sword. The young woman had barely time to cry out before she was fatally wounded.

Her mother's house was near by and the mother ran to the door just soon enough to receive her daughter who staggered in a dying condition to her arms.

By this time the village was aroused. Most of the people had retired when Frazer began his murderous work, but they were all now thoroughly awake and many on the streets looking for the murderer, the cries of whose victims had been heard throughout the hamlet.

Mrs. Frazer approached her husband and he raised his sword as if to strike her, but the wife, with tears flowing from her eyes, fearlessly took him by the arm and pleaded with him to return home.

A crowd had gathered, but were afraid to approach on account of the sword.

Frazer presented a horrible appearance drenched with the blood of his victims. His wife led him home, the crowd following. He seemed now to be overcome by the reaction from his frenzy and sank gasping into an arm chair.

There he sat still holding the bloody sword and a pistil until the police arrived and took him into custody. He made no resistance to arrest. When examined at the station house, a second revolver and scores of cartridges were found in his pockets. No motive for the crime can be imagined.

The Frazers and Shadwells were intimate friends and there has been no trouble whatever between them. Mrs. Shadwell proved, on examination, not to be fatally injured.

DECLARED INVALID.

Decision Regarding the Law which Prohibits the Sale of Liquor Near Soldiers' Homes.

Dayton, O., July 27.—The one-mile limit law enacted last winter and which prohibits, with severe penalties for a violation, the sale of intoxicating iqluors within one mile of the boundary line of the Soldiers' Home, was declared unconstitutional in the common pleas court to-day. The law was passed for the purpose of getting rid of numberless saloons and dives immediately outside of the home grounds, and which fed and thrived on the blood and pension money of the old soldiers. The majority of the saloons closed following the enactment of the law. Its constitutionality was successfully attacked, however, by a notorious dive-keeper. When the decision was announced, beer wagons were as thick as leaves along the avenues, lanes, and gullies about the home. The law is regarded as in contravention of section 26 article 2 of the state constitution, and as of being of local application. The Soldiers' Home at Sandusky is similarly affected by the adverse decision.

AUSTRIAN ALLIANCE.

Bismarck Denies that He Opposed the Treaty.

London, July 27.—The Berlin correspondent of the Times says: "Prince Bismarck in his speech at Kissingen on Sunday repudiated the assertion that he had become an opponent of the Austrian alliance.

"On the contrary, he emphasized the belief that the Germans should unconditionally and under all circumstances hold fast to the Austrian alliance which contained an important amelioration of the old relations.

"While the North German confederation existed," said Prince Bismarck, "we had claims on the assistance of the 95,000 Austrians. If we were attacked to-day we would have, under certain circumstances, a claim on the entire Austrian army. We are both favorably situated."

WATCHING SALISBURY.

Will He Slip Down and Out of Office,

Or Will He Wait Until He is Thrown Out?

A Serious Condition of Political Affairs Confronts England's Prime Minister.

London, July 27.—Political interest to-day centers in the small room in Downing street, where Lord Salisbury and his ministers are considering whether it would be more dignified for them to hand in their resignations, or wait for the liberal majority to oust them.

Salisbury's habitual stubbornness has given some ground for the opinion that the ministry will hold on until forced out by a vote of censure, and as a result of Gladstone's small majority, and the heterogeneous nature of his following, it is quite possible that the present ministry may continue indefinitely. Parliament will assemble early in August and nothing is likely to be known of the policy of the government until that time.

The Right Hon. Arthur Wellesley Peel, although a Unionist, will undoubtedly be re-elected speaker of the commons.

Many of the Irish Nationalists are said to oppose Peel on account of the firmness with which he treated them in the early days of Salisbury's administration.

Gladstone himself, however, is looking forward to the time when he will be in power, and knows that to curb the Tory opposition, he will need a man thoroughly acquainted with parliamentary procedure, and one who can and will apply the closure frequently and to advantage.

Peel is a thoroughly impartial man, and if re-elected he will bring the Tory and Unionist minority to time with as much vigor as he has shown in governing the opposition during the past six years.

BIG LAWSUIT.

Dueber Goes After the American Watch Trust.

Canton, O., July 27.—The bitter fight of the American watch trust with its $14,000,000 of capital against John C. Dueber and his companies here with $2,000,000 of capital has culminated in a big suit for damages brought by Mr. Dueber against the trust by his attorneys, Wilbur & Oldham, and Robert Sewell.

The papers were filed in the supreme court of New York county and the United States circuit court for the southern district of New York. Service was to-day had on the Elgin Co.

Among the largest companies named as defendants are: The American Waltham Watch Co., the Bay State Watch Case Co., the Keystone Watch Case Co., the Seth Thomas Clock Co., Joseph Fahys & Co. and others. Damages in the sum of $950,000 are asked.

The petition alleges that the defendant notified the trade that they would not sell to such as purchased the Dueber goods, thus causing many for a time to withhold their patronage from the Dueber Co., and that the defendants would not sell watch movements except under agreement from the dealers that Dueber cases would not be handled.

The petition charges that the actions of the defendants for the purpose of establishing a monopoly in the supply of watches contrary to the statutes of the state and he United Sates and cut off the plaintiff from participating in this trade unless he joined the conspiracy, thus intending to drive him out of the field, impoverishing the plaintiff and all its artists, artisans, workmen and employes and their families, wherefore damages are asked in the sum named.

WYOMING DEMOCRATS.

They Are in Session in Rock Springs.

One Effort of the Party This Fall Will be to Break Up the Cattle Ring.

Rock Springs, Wyo., July 27.—The democratic state convention was called to order at noon to-day by Collin Hunter, chairman of the democratic central committee.

The convention will nominate a governor, the one congressman to which the state is entitled, a supreme judge, and three presidential electors.

The campaign will be made on local and state issues, a platform will contain a clause pledging the party to use its influence toward the breaking up of what is known as the "Cheyenne cattle ring."

It is claimed that wealthy non-resident cattle-owners have controlled the legislature for several years, and that the laws enacted under this regime have been detrimental to the best interests of the state, and calculated only to increase the wealth of the cattlemen, and to tighten their grasp on the resources of the state. After disposing of the formal part of their work the convention adjourned until to-morrow, when the nominations will be made.

Beecham's Pills are faithful friends.

CALIFORNIA REPUBS.

A Warm Time in Fixing up a Platform.

Sacramento, Cal., July 27.—The republican state convention to select presidential electors, candidates for congress and adopt a platfrom for the campaign, met here yesterday. The platform adopted last evening indorsed the national platform and administration.

The main fight was over the railroad plank, which demands from the government the early completion of the Nicaragua canal and invites capital to build into California other competing transcontinental railroad lines and pledging the party to assist any movement to secure competition in freights and fares.

In addition to being chosen as congressional nominee in the Third district, Judge Hilborn was elected to fill the unexpired term in congress of McKenna. Thomas R. Bard, of Vantura, and J. C. Campbell, of San Francisco, were nominated electors-at-large by acclamation and George B. Cook, of Merced, and A. S. Hallidie, of San Francisco, alternates.

The First congressional district nominated E. W. Davis, of Santa Rosa, grand master of the state grange, for congress. Convention adjourned sine die.

SIX ROBBERS SHOT.

Mexican Rurals Make Short Work of a Band of Thieves.

Galveston, Tex., July 27.—Parties in from the frontier report that six of the robbers who recently attacked quarry foreman C. H. Wood near Trespidres, on the Mexican International road, and who attempted to murder him, and afterward robbed his car, have been arrested by rurals, or Mexican rangers, who, after identifying the men by stolen property upon their persons, took them out a short distance from the main track and put the entire number to death.

The robbers were shot and left where they fell.

BIG STRIKE.

Saw Mill Men in Wisconsin Dissatisfied with Their Work.

Merrill, Wis., July 27.—The largest strike which has ever taken place in the Wisconsin valley was instituted yesterday in this city by the employes of the saw mills of the Gilkey and Anson Lumber company and A. H. Stange, involving over 800 men.

The chief reason for this action of the men is that they demanded ten hours' work instead of eleven at ten hours' pay, which was refused them. A general strike among this class of workers here is talked of.

TWO MEN KILLED

Bloody Encounter Between a Horse Thief and a Posse.

Cincinnati, July 27.—A dispatch from Mt. Sterling, Ky., gives the following particulars of the shooting of Jailor Tipton and his posse by the desperado Hurley, a horse thief, whom they were trying to arrest.

Jailor Tipton received a telegram from Madison county, telling of the stealing that thief had done. Mr. Tipton started after Hurley, taking with him Tom Howard, George Rayburn and another man.

Hurley was found in John Pett's house, in Menifee county, some 18 miles from here. They surrounded the place, but a watch dog made so much noise that they determined to enter the house. Tipton first entered and sat down in a chair. As Pett struck a match, Tipton was shot through the head and killed by Hurley, from under the bed.

Howard then entered and the thief shot him in the head, killing him instantly. Rayburn then entered the room and was shot in the shoulder. He rushed out into the yard, and vicious dogs nearly tore him to pieces before Mr. Pett, the man of the house, could release him. The fourth man took to the woods. Hurley made his escape, and the sheriff and posse are scouring the country for him. Rayburn was alive at 4 o'clock.

MR. HENRY BOWER

Has a Tough Time Explaining the Situation

In Which His Method of Book-Keeping Has Gotten Him—Bismarck's Was Headquarters.

The mystery, if mystery it is, surrounding the peculiar methods of Toledo's talented street commissioner is growing deeper and darker.

In his evidence yesterday afternoon he attempted to show that while Lentner's and Kelly's names appeared on the pay, roll, that their work was performed by other men.

Cross-examined by City Solicitor Read, it transpired that most, if not all, of those alleged substitutes were dead and had been dead for some time.

Dead men tell no tales, and therefore they will not appear as witnesses. Whether this fact will help or hurt Mr. Bower's cause remains to be seen.

One of the men who worked as Lentner's substitute, he said, was named Hipple.

Reference to the directory showed that Hipple was dead.

"Tell us the name of some one else," Mr. Read asked, laughingly. "Those substitutes seem to have been in hard luck—they all died."

"Well, one man's name was Philip Hughes."

"Is he, too, dead?" laughed the city solicitor.

"He is that," laughingly replied a bystander.

On again consulting the directory it was found that Hughes was also dead.

Mayor Emmick and President Coleman joined heartily in the laugh that greeted Mr. Read's remark that substitutes were evidently short-lived.

"Can you give us another name?" asked Mr. Read.

"Yes, there is a man here whose name I don't know."

"Is he here as a witness?"

"Yes, he is here somewhere."

Mr. Southard, who seemed considerably disgusted with the whole affair, had no further questions to ask his client, and he was excused.

Albert Machen, the alleged substitute whose name Mr. Bower did not remember, testified that he had worked for Mr. Bower ever since he became street commissioner. He did not seem to know much about the affair. He might, he said, have acted as substitute for Kelly or Lentner, but he was not prepared to swear that he had.

He was not a good witness for the defense and did not help Mr. Bower to any great extent.

Mrs. J. Fein, wife of John Fein, familiarly known as "Bismarck," recently killed by the street cars, and whose saloon is opposite the Bee building, was the next witness. She testified that her husband was in the habit of receiving time checks of the street department employes.

"Have you ever seen a James Kelly in your place?" Mr. Read asked.

She had not, and neither had she seen Albert Lentner, and yet it was true checks drawn in these men's names were taken in by her husband.

She had seen Mr. Bower, she said, in the place several times.

Peter Koster, a contractor, testified that Albert Lentner had worked for him during a certain period last year.

Mr. Read here produced time checks showing that Lentner was on the payroll of the street department at the time he was working for Koster.

Lentner was again recalled and asked if he recognized a bundle of time checks as his.

Lentner looked the checks over carefully and shook his head.

"The checks are made out in your name, are they not?" Mr. Reed inquired.

"Yes."

"But you never had them or saw them before?"

"No, never."

Mr. Lentner thought he recognized another bundle as his.

Richard Kumero, book-keeper for the Buckeye Brewing Co., testified to the fact that his firm had received blocks of time checks of the street department from various of its customers.

Lentner said he had but once sold his time check, and that was to a saloon keeper on Erie street.

"Where on Erie street?" asked Mr. Read.

"Near Lafayette—just across from Bob Fiddler's."

"And where is Bob Fiddler's?"

Mayor Emmick—"Right opposite Stevens' factory on Erie street."

Mr. Read laughingly (to the mayor)—"You seem to be pretty thoroughly posted on the saloons."

Nicholas Frett, peddler of the Buckeye Brewing Co., testified that he had received time checks (produced) in payment for beer. He identified two checks made out in the name of John Lentner, which he had received at Bismarck's place on St. Clair street.

Patrick Kelly, brother of James Kelly, was the last witness, and the board, at the conclusion of his evidence, adjourned until 4 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

THE PAGE CASE.

A Change of Venue Asked for the Arrested People.

Hammond, Ind., July 27.—A change of venue was asked yesterday in the case of Charles G. Page, Elizabeth Tobin and H. C. Taylor, charged with murdering Page's wife, on the ground that the court was biased.

The change was granted, and Judge Crawford took Judge Morlock's place on the bench. Then the attorneys had a long consultation, and the prosecuting attorney asked that a nolle prosequi be entered in the case of each defendant. The prisoners were discharged.

ASLEEP ON THE TRACK.

Fostoria, O., July 27.—(Special)—About midnight last night, Engineer Bryon, of the B. & O. freight, was struck by the engine of the westbound fast line while sitting on the end of a tie on the main track, where he had gone to sleep in the interval awaiting for the train to pass.

He was dangerously injured, and was taken to his home in Garrett.

FAST TRIP.

New York, July 27.—Arrived—Steamer City of Paris from Liverpool. The City of Paris beat all previous records, making the trip from Queenstown in 5 days, 15 hours, 58 minutes.

M. S. BEACH DEAD.

New York, July 27.—Moses S. Beach, who was for more than twenty years either a part owner or sole proprietor of the Sun, and who sold it to its present owners, died on Monday at his home at Peekskill. He was in his 70th year.

FLETCHER FOR CONGRESS.

Minneapolis, July 27.—The republican congressional convention for the Fifth district has nominated Looren Fletcher by acclamation.

A DUEL WITH GLOVES

Fighting Editor of the Chicago Tribune

Accepts the Challenge of De Mores.

An Open Banter Cheerfully Accepted—It Would Draw Better Than the Sullivan Fight.

Chicago, July 27.—The Tribune this morning prints the following: The following letter has been received from the Marquis de Mores:

38 Rue du Mont Thebor,
Paris, July 12, 1892.

To the editor Chicago Tribune:

Dear sir: I notice the mention you make of my name in your issue of June 29.—I am happy to say that as far as public sentiment is concerned in this country your kind appreciation of myself is not shared. I wish to know if as editor of the Tribune you take the responsibility of the article. Yours truly,

M. DE MORES.

In response the Tribune says:

"This letter admits of only one interpretation. The Marquis de Mores wants satisfaction. He shall have it. As the challenged party the Chicago Tribune has the right to name the time and place of meeting and to choose the weapons.

"The fighting editor of the Tribune will meet the Marquis de Mores at Jackson park on some date to be hereafter agreed upon between the first of May and the last of October, 1893.

"The fight shall take place in a 24-foot ring and shall be conducted in strict accordance with the Marquis of Queensberry rules.

"The weapons shall be gloves weighing eight ounces—this size being the largest permitted under the rules—and the fight shall be to a finish.

"The combat shall take place under the auspices of the world's Columbian exposition, without additional charge for admission to the grounds.

"It is well known to the marquis, doubtless, that every first-class newspaper is provided with a fighting editor who holds himself personally responsible for anything that may be said in the paper, and is always ready to back it up.

"The fighting editor of the Tribune is always in training and is a man who habitually thirsts for gore. The Tribune is ready. Let the Marquis de Mores come on."

The editorial in the Tribune to which the marquis takes exception was published on June 29, shortly after the fatal duel between the Marquis and Capt. Mayer. It refers to the marquis as an anarchist, an adventurer, and a man of spotted reputation and concludes as follows:

"It is cheering to observe that public sentiment in France severely condemns this duel and that De Mores has been arrested. It is to be hoped that he will be awarded the severest punishment the law allows and that this worthless, disreputable marquis may soon find himself at hard labor behind the stone walls of some French penitentiary."

St. Paul, July 27.—Fifteen thousand people saw the opening of the fourth annual meeting of the Twin City Jockey club. Notwithstanding the rain and the heavy track some very fair racing was witnessed. The race of chief interest, of course, was the Twin City derby. Yo Tambein won handily half a length ahead of Buckner, leaving Leon and Newton out of sight.

—::—::—

San Francisco, Cal., July 27.—George Dawson, of Australia, and Dannie Needham, of St. Paul, fought at the California Athletic club for a purse of $2,000. Fully 17,000 people witnessed the contest. Dawson won in the twenty-ninth round.

—::—::—

New York, July 27.—The noted outfielder of the New York club, George Gore, signed to-day to play with the St. Louis Browns. He is one of the best all-round fielders in the country and will cover center for the Browns, Brodie going to right and Caruthers going in the box. The Browns are weak in hitting and Gore will strengthen this department immensely. He will join the team in Baltimore.

—::—::—

Washington, July 27.—Von der Ahe is negotiating with Jimmy Manning, of the Kansas City team, the idea being to play him at second and Crooks at third.

—::—::—

Caruthers' return to the box will be a popular move.

—::—::—

Cooney's showing since he joined the Senators goes to establish the correctness of Anson's judgment in letting him go.

—::—::—

Pitcher Darby, late of Omaha, who accepted terms from Philadelphia, has gone to Rochester, he having previously signed an agreement to play there should Omaha disband. He receives from Rochester the back pay due him from Omaha in addition to a handsome salary.

—::—::—

Youngstown, O., July 27.—John S. Prince, the champion bicyclist, attempted to ride six miles on the fair grounds' track against two trotting horses, the latter trotting alternate miles, and was defeated by a quarter of a mile.

—::—::—

Newark, O., July 27.—The first of three road bicycle races of ten miles arranged by the Y. M. C. A. for a $35 gold medal, $15 silver medal, and a dish of ice cream, was run last evening with nine starters in a muddy road. J. J. Daniels won the first in 38 minutes and 4 1-4 seconds. H. P. Scott second in 39 minutes and 40 seconds. George Boyles third, in 39 minutes and 50 seconds. An immense crowd watched the start and finish.

ANOTHER CHANCE FOR HIM.

Colonel H. Clay King Has His Case Carried to the United States Courts.

Memphis, Tenn., July 27.—Sheriff McLendon has received an order from Judge Jackson, of the United States circuit court, commanding him to produce the body of Colonel H. Clay King before him at Nashville, next Thursday, at 10 a. m., the time set for hearing the habeas corpus proceedings in arrest of execution.

General G. M. P. Turner, the only Memphis lawyer who has ever taken a murder case from a state court to a federal court, claims that King's counsel have gone the wrong way in applying for a habeas corpus. It failed in the case of Kemmler, the New York murderer, Lingg, the anarchist, and several other cases when the federal court was asked to interfere. The proceeding being based on habeas corpus, the general opinion is that the writ will be refused. In the case he (Turner) had, that of Powell, the notorious Texas murderer, he went to the supreme court of the United States on a writ of error, and though he failed to secure a reversal of the verdict of the state court, the supreme justices told him he had pursued the only proper course.

In case the writ is denied by Judge Jackson and an appeal is taken to the supreme court of the United States, it is expected that that body will hear the case in chambers without delay, as it presents several interesting and important questions. If the writ is denied there, the time of execution having passed, Colonel King will be remanded back to the Shelby courts to be re-sentenced.

FACTS FROM FINDLAY.

Gossip of General Interest from the Brilliant City.

Findlay, O., July 27.—(Special)—Assessors report a total of 731 dogs in the city—just 731 too many. Mayor Waltermire has issued a proclamation that they must be muzzled at once or die.

Mrs. Catherine Dempsey died at the residence of her son, North West street, yesterday, aged 80 years. The remains were taken to Wharton, Hardin county, to-day for burial.

The trouble between the Belt line and T., C. & C. roads was compromised in common pleas court yesterday by the attorneys of the two roads. Judge Scott, of Toledo, looked after the T., C. & C. interests.

Full candidates for county offices to be filled this fall are springing up like mushrooms in every corner of the city and county.

Sneak thieves went through the residence of J. G. Shuler, on Liberty street, during the absence of the family and stole a pair of diamond earrings and pin, gold watch, rings, breastpin and about $3 in cash.

Charles Yochum plead guilty to violating Sunday ordinance. Mayor Waltermire gave $25, costs and 10 days in jail.

DOUBLED THE CAPITAL STOCK.

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 27.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the Brooklyn Street railroad to-day it was decided to increase the capital stock of that corporation from $6,000,000 to $12,000,000. This increased capitalization is rendered necessary to meet the expense of substituting electricity for horses as a motive power.

Suffering from the effects of youthful follies or indiscretions, or are troubled with Weakness, Nervous Debility, Loss of Memory, Despondency, Aversion to Society, Kidney Troubles, or any disease of the Genito-Urinary Organs, can here find a safe and speedy cure. Charges reasonable, especially to the poor. CURES GUARANTEED.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN.

There are many troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and weakening of the system in a manner the patient can not account for. On examining the urinary deposits, a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes particles of albumen will appear, or the color be of a thin, milkish hue, again changing to a dark torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. The doctor will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs. Consultation free. Those unable to call, can write full particulars of their case and have medicine sent by express, with full instructions for use. Mention this paper when writing.

INJUNCTION SUSPENDED.

In The Cleveland Target Co. vs. U. S. Pigeon Co.'s Case.

This morning in the U. S. circuit court a decision of Judge Ricks' in the case of the Cleveland Target Co. vs. The United States Pigeon Co. was filed.

The injunction against the U. S. Company was suspended until the next term of court, the company giving bond in $5,000 to defray all damages if any are found.

THEY WERE INSPECTED.

Col. Bunker Examines the Local Military Companies.

The local companies of the Sixteenth regiment, O. N. G., were inspected by Col. H. S. Bunker at Memorial hall last evening. After inspection dress parade was formed by Adjutant F. W. Rickenbaug. The men are well disciplined and in good order for camp. The companies are officered as follows:

Company A—Captain, J. M. Weier; first lieutenant, E. W. Rydman; second lieutenant, F. C. Roshong; 50 men.

Company C—Captain, J. R. Wade; first lieutenant, S. F. Tanner; second lieutenant, S. E. Meek; 48 men.

Company H—Captain, R. S. Holbrook; first lieutenant, L. W. Howhard; second lieutenant, J. M. Stanberry; 51 men.

MANAGER COLTON

Will Take a New Departure on the Steamer City of Toledo.

Toledoans enjoy the rides on the river and to the bay day and evening to a great extent, and the boat managers are continually offering inducements to invite the crowds. Manager Colton has hit upon a plan for the steamer City of Toledo, which will undoubtedly meet with popular favor. He contemplates giving excursions on Wednesday and Saturday evenings for the rest of the season, at which local musicians will furnish free entertainment. This will consist of instrumental selections, with other knick-knacks thrown in for the pleasure of patrons. Mr. Colton is proving himself the right man in the right place.

THE CONGRESSMAN

From the Toledo District—Who Will It Be?

The last number of the Wood County Democrat has the following on the congressional nomination, a topic which in a little while will be the absorbing one:

The congressional pot is beginning to boil in this district. The candidates on the republican side are understood to be Hon. J. M. Ashley, Hon. J. K. Mamilton, Hon. C. P. Griffin, of Toledo, and Dr. J. C. Lincoln, of Bowling Green, and it is quite possible that Toledo will get into such a jangle that Dr. Lincoln may capture the persimmon. Anyway we are for the Wood county man whenever he wants anything.

On the democratic side there seems no struggle for the nomination. Hon. L. C. Cole and Hon. J. W. Canary have both been mentioned by Toledo parties, but neither of them will take it. Indeed, while we have lots of good timber, no Wood county democrat wants to go to congress this year, and it is likely that Toledo will have to furnish the man.

UNION MEETINGS.

Clerks' M. P. U. Elected Officers.

The Clerks' Mutual Protective union held their fortnightly meeting at the Elks' hall last night, election of officers being the principal business before them, the election being as follows: President, F. W. Guese; vice president, F. L. Cooper; recording secretary, Peter Parker; treasurer, J. Averbeck; financial secretary, Wm. Paquette; guard, John Parker; guide, P. A. Brennan; trustees, F. W. Ayling and A. Schoman.

The union will give a moonlight excursion in August, and Messrs. Guese, Averbeck, Revell and Scholzer were appointed a committee to secure the City of Toledo for that purpose.

There are a number of Toledo merchants in the city who refuse to close their places of business at 6:30, and the union will have cards printed giving their names, and a card will be put up in every hall where labor organizations meet. Cards will also be sent out to every member of labor organizations, giving the names of all who refuse to comply with the union's request.

The union will adopt an amendment to their constitution for a sick and death benefit, a member to receive $50 in case of death and $3 per week if sick. There were five applications for membership received last night and three new members initiated. The union is growing rapidly and is flourishing financially.

International Association of Machinists No. 105, meets at Turley's hall to-night.

The Central Labor union meets to-morrow night.

THE SHERIFF TAKES A HAND

And Assumes Control of Property—Peculiar Case.

Sheriff Stuart, this morning, on an order issued by Probate Judge Millard, removed Barbara Hersic, and her goods and chattels, from 1347 South Erie street.

There is quite a story connected with the case. It seems the property was at one time owned by John Hersic, husband of Barbara Hersic.

At one time there was a domestic eruption, and a divorce followed. Later on it appears that John Hersick employed his ex-wife as housekeeper. He died and Milo Melchers was appointed administrator. As such official, on order of the court, Mr. Melchers sold the property to William H. Herdman. When the new owner came to take possession Mrs. Hersick refused to be removed, claiming rights against such proceedings.

A SAD ACCIDENT.

He Gave His Life for His Sheep.

Charles Hoak, of This City, Receives Fatal Injuries on the Lake Shore Railroad This Morning.

Charles Hoak, whose home is at the corner of Division and Forrer streets, was out around the country east of here buying up sheep. He was between Milbury and Genoa this morning driving a flock along a country road, when he came to the Lake Shore crossing. A train was coming along, and some of the sheep had wandered out on the track. Mr. Hoak tried to save the sheep and stood on the track to kee pthem off. He remained in his perilous position too long, however, for before he could get off the track he was struck by the engine of the passenger train going east. When picked up it was found that his skull was crushed and one arm broken. He was placed on a west bound train and brought to Toledo and taken to St. Vincent's hospital. He was unconscious at 3 o'clock and the doctors say he will live only an hour or so.

He is a poor, hardworking, industrious man, and was well liked among the cattle and hide men in the city, who were always doing him a good turn when they could.

The unfortunate man has awife and three children.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

What Commissioner Mason's Report Shows.

The Colville Indian Reservation About to be Opened—Minister Blair's Troubles.

Washington, July 27.—Mr. John W. Mason, commissioner of internal revenue, has made a preliminary report of the operations of that service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1892. The total collections from all sources of internal revenue for the fiscal year just ended were $153,857,543; for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1891, $146,035,415; increase $7,822,128. The result, the commissioner says, is most gratifying, especially when taken in connection with the fact that there was a decrease in the receipts from the tax on snuff, tobacco and the special taxes relating to tobacco of $1,795,777, as compared with the receipts from the same sources for the previous fiscal year.

The quantities of distilled spirits, fermented liquors, manufactured tobacco, snuff, cigars, cigarettes and oleomargarine on which tax was paid during the last fiscal year are as follows: Spirits distilled from apples, peaches and grapes, gallons 1,961,062, increase 741,626; spirits distilled from materials other than apples, peaches and grapes, gallons 93,084,724, increase 5,830,723; fermented liquors, barrels 31,817,836, increase 1,339,644; cigars, cheroots and cigarettes, weighing over 3 pounds per thousand, number 4,548,799,417, increase 72,906,650; cigarettes weighing not over three pounds per thousand, number 2,892,982,840, increase 208,444,080; snuff, pounds 11,164,351, increase 714,157; tobacco, chewing and smoking, pounds 253,962,139, increase 10,456,291; oleomargarine, pounds 47,283,750, increase 3,709,328.

The five districts wherein the largest collections were made during the last fiscal year were the Fifth Illinois, $20,828,247; the First Illinois, $10,883,986; the Fifth Kentucky, $10,230,533; the First Ohio, $9,967,954; and the First Missouri, $8,448,329. The collections in Illinois amounting to $36,795,338, were more than twice as large as those in any other state, with the single exception of Kentucky, where the collections were $21,813,851. New York stood third, Ohio fourth and Pennsylvania fifth in order.

The commissioner says that the result of the first year's operation of the law relative to the bounty on sugar (act of October 1, 1890,) has been satisfactory.

Reservation to be Opened.

Washington, July 27.—Secretary Noble has directed the commissioner of the general land office to take steps for the immediate survey of the ceded lands of the Colville Indian reservation in the state of Washington with the view of their being opened to public settlement at the earliest possible date. The ceded lands comprise the northern part of the reservation and aggregate 1,500,00 acres.

It is stated that trespassers are already crowding into the reservation making selections of mineral and agricultural lands and that trouble is feared. As soon as the surveys are completed, it is expected that the president will issue a proclamation declaring the lands opened to settlement under the homestead laws upon the payment to the government of $1.50 per acre.

The Blair Business.

Washington, July 27.—The latest correspondence in relation to the non-acceptance of ex-Senator Blair as minister to China was made public to-day. In substance it is this: China protests against the exclusion act, which is in violation of treaty and cannot regard the question as closed. In the selection of envoys in future if the government of the United States follows the international rule regarding persons persona grata China will make no objection.

Guard mounting at	8:30 a m
Dress Parade at	6:00 p m
Divine Services, conducted by Regimental Chaplain M. L. Donahy	8:00 p m

4. The regiment will be divided into two battalions, the first composed of the following companies in the order named from right to left, F, E, H, A, under the immediate charge of Maj. E. B. King; the second battalion composed of the following companies in the order named from right to left, B, D, I, C, under the immediate charge of Maj. W. O. Bulger.

Second Lieut. A. E. Augenstein of Company "F," has been detailed as acting adjutant of the first battalion, and Sergeant Alva Chrisman of Company E, as acting sergeant major of the first battalion; Second Lieut. Gottlieb Strobel of Company "B" has been detailed as acting adjutant of the second battalion, and Sergeant M. A. Reily of Company D, has been detailed as acting sergeant major of the second battalion, and the above named officers will be obeyed and respected accordingly.

5. Arthur L. Osborne has been recommissioned as regimental surgeon; Clement F. Souder has been appointed regimental sergeant major; N. E. Marshall as regimental quartermaster sergeant; Alex Harnden as regimental commissary sergeant, and Frank S. Whitlock and Richard L. Gorley as principal musicians.

The above named officers will be obeyed and respected accordingly.

6. There will be three stated roll calls each day; the first at the sound of the assembly, ten minutes after reveille, the second when companies are formed for dress parade, and the third at tattoo. A commissioned officer must be present at each roll call and immediately after the call of the roll he will report the result thereof to the regimental adjutant, together with a list of the names of those who are absent from roll call without leave.

7. All passes must be signed by company commanders and approved by the regimental commander.

8. At least one relief of guards must remain at guard headquarters all the time, and officers and non-commissioned officers of the guard must remain at guard headquarters except when necessarily absent on duty.

9. Commandants of companies will see to it that the uniforms, arms and equipments of the men of their respective companies are at once put in the very best possible condition, and kept so, in readiness for inspection by the adjutant general or other officer detailed by him, whenever ordered.

10. Company commanders will be held responsible for the conduct of their men while in camp and they will see to it that the best of order is maintained at all times and that no injury is done to fences, buildings or other property in the fair grounds or elsewhere.

11. Lieut. Col. M. B. Lemmon will act as special instructor in matters pertaining to duties of sentinels and officers of the guard during the encampment.

12. Commandants of companies will report the names of their rifle teams to Capt. E. E. Newman, inspector of rifle practice, immediately upon arrival in camp. The time and place for holding the shooting contest for the regimental badge will be announced in future orders.

13. Commandants of companies will furnish the regimental adjutant with a morning report immediately upon arrival in camp and will thereafter at 7 o'clock a. m. each morning furnish the regimental adjutant with a morning report.

14. Details of whatever nature must be promptly made and the men detailed sent to the place and at the time mentioned in the order, in charge of a non-commissioned officer without delay.

By order of

HENRY S. BUNKER,
Colonel Commanding.

F. W. Rickenbaugh, First Lieutenant and Adjutant.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

A Consolidated Car Knocks a Wagon Gulley West.

A Number of Laborers Going to Work Are Capsized, and One is Seriously Injured.

About 7 o'clock this morning an accident occurred on the corner of Collingwood avenue and Monroe street that resulted in a series of causalties of a more or less serious nature.

Several laborers were in a wagon going to work when a Consolidated electric car collided with the wagon with terrific force at the point mentioned.

It was rumored down town that one man had been killed, but this report proved unfounded.

Inquiry at the Consolidated office revealed the fact that a collision had taken place, and that one man, whose name was unknown, had been seriously injured.

The wagon lies wrecked at the corner, but the injured man man was removed to his home and his name could not be learned.

The men in the wagon lay the responsibility on the street car people, and say the bell was not sounded as is customary at street crossings.

A large crowd of neighboring people collected and rendered all assistance possible to the injured men.

An altercation, during which it is said blows were exchanged, occurred between some of the carpenters and the street car conductors relative to the matter..

Gala Week | At Presque Isle. Second regiment in camp. Grand dress parade every day. Steamer Pastime leaves 10, 2, 3:30, 5 30 and 8:30.

If there was but one potato in the world, a careful cultivator might produce 10,000,000,000 from it in ten years, and that would supply the world with seed again.

PARDONED.

Convict Bradford, Who Killed a Drunken Brute.

Columbus, O., July 27.—Governor McKinley has granted a pardon to William Bradford, a Belmont county man, serving one year in the penitentiary for manslaughter. Bradford's crime was the killing of a man who insulted his mother and sister. The Bradford family were seated in their parlor at the time. The windows were open and the house so close to the street that pedestrians on the sidewalk could look into the room. A man named Keyser passed along in an intoxicated condition. He stuck his head through a window into the room and made an insulting remark. Bradford went out and struck Keyser with his fist, knocking him down. Either the blow or the fall fractured his skull and he died.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

M. A. Henry has opened a new grocery on Lawrence avenue.

Politics will move a little in the Seventh ward for the next 10 days.

The Lawrence avenue pavement adds greatly to that portion of the city.

The will of Francis J. King was filed in the probate court this morning.

An American flag floats from the new Woolson building on Superior street.

There are no Toledo patents noted in the past week's list, just issued from Washington.

Governor McKinley writes Judge L. H. Pike, treasurer of the Ohio State Bar association, desiring to be reinstated as a member.

Mr. John Stevens, familiarly known as "Uncle John," an old and respected commission merchant, died last evening at 8 o'clock.

The alarm of fire last evening was occasioned by a small blaze in the saloon in the rear of the Chamber of Commerce. No damage was done.

The Keystone Pleasure club gave an excursion to Marengo Park, last night, on the steamer Burt. There was dancing, games and a good time generally, the best of order prevailing.

Hon. W. H. Kinder, state insurance superintendent, and Mr W. Opes will be in the city to-night to appear as witnesses for the state at the trial of J. K. Elderkin.

Three men, Ed Fitzgerald, Robert Allen and Ed Franklin, who were in the gang that entered Yardmaster Winslow's house Monday, were bound over to the common pleas court this morning. Bail was fixed at $500 in each instance.

The Wersell's Cadets defeated the Browns by a score of 21 to 13. The feature of the game was the two one-handed catches by Spiels and two double plays and the pitching and catching by Weil and Chrepple's home run.

The Toledo maennerchor is rehearsing a new cantata by Moore. They anticipate giving the concert in September, when Mr. Moore, who is a professor in a Philadelphia academy, will be present to conduct the affair, which will be highly enjoyable.

George B. Hull, democratic nominee for the council in the Seventh ward, is one of Toledo's best known residents. A vote for Mr. Hull is a vote for honest and straightforward dealing with all classes of interests seeking legislation at the hands of the council board.

Capt. J. M. Weier has resigned as the commanding officer of Custar Division, K. P., as has also Lieut. Luce Brown. The former has been captain since the organization of the division, and has freely given of his time and talent to it. His retirement from the command will be regretted by the K. P.'s, not only in Toledo, but within the jurisdiction of the Sixth regiment, with which Custar is connected.

A Striking Object Lesson.

Mr. G. R. Pond, an editorial writer in the Boston Globe, explains for the benefit of a number of inquirers, as follows:

Many people who read of the Homestead troubles fancy that Mr. Carnegie is, like other manufacturers, merely the owner of a large establishment, having a manager to attend to business while he is abroad or otherwise engaged, and they are surprised that he should be away from his business so long.

The fact is that the Homestead works are hardly more in comparison with the vast Carnegie interests than a blacksmith shop in the yard is with the great machine shop of which it is an adjunct.

The Carnegie steel and iron concerns is made up of a gigantic confederation of industries, known under different names, such as the Carnegie, Phipps & Co. establishment, the Lucy furnace, the Keystone Bridge company, the Edgar Thompson mills, and nearly a dozen others, the Homestead works being merely one of the various plants.

This vast industrial confederacy is engaged in almost every conceivable kind of steel and iron manufacture. Mr. Carnegie, the chief of the confederacy, has passed beyond the point of active management, and has reached the sphere of industrial royalty. His place as sublime monarch is in his Scotch castle. His chief partner, Phipps, has purchased the celebrated baronial seat of Lord Lytton, a veritable palace. Doubtless the minor partners, as they reach the royalty stage, will each in turn cast about for a baronial retreat.

Such is "Triumphant Democracy," as taught by the Carnegie example. It means, as the public are beginning to understand, an industrial confederacy masquerading in the vestments of republicanism, while its heads imitate the customs of political monarchies.

And, to crown it all, the whole vast establishment sails under the banner of "protection to American workingmen." It is indeed a striking object lesson.

What Ails the Farmer.

"A Farmer" writing his "views" to the Inter Ocean says:

We do not claim to have any brains, or perhaps we would quit working fourteen hours at an average compensation of less than a dollar, but would all go to the mills, where the pay would average more than $2 a day of ten hours, with the privilege of clamoring for eight and to strike for higher pay. But we do not want such brains, yet we are not quite satisfied to work for a dollar to raise bread to pay other men $2, and yet see them go on a strike and commit murder for less hours and more pay than we know that we, in the end, must pay them in the enhanced value of goods of their make that we must buy.

Evidently the I.-O. man didn't notice that this farmer without "claim to brains" proved too much, in his effort to shame the locked-out Homesteaders. He seems to know that he is raising bread to feed protected industries and paying enhanced prices for manufactured goods in order to insure employes therein twice what he can earn. And yet he feels so well satisfied about it he rushes in to defend the Pinkertons (in a paragraph not quoted) and plead for the system that works directly against himself and his interests by conferring benefits on others. And this is what ails the farmer? He has eyes, but sees not, ears has he, but he hears not, or hearing, he fails to comprehend.

National Dishonesty.

The claimants of shares in the French Spoliation fund, which was paid to the United States by France and was due to the grandparents and great grandparents of the present generation, will sing peans of praise for the honesty of their government, when they read that once more has the amount for the payment of this debt been dropped from the deficiency appropriations bill in congress. The families of the Chilean sailors would better make a lively hustle for their money the moment it is in possession of the government or look ahead to a time when their children's children will be asking for it in vain. It appears that government never intends to hand over the money belonging to the French Spoliation heirs, or to pay its honest debts to the North American Indians. It is humiliating to confess to an acknowledgement of such rank dishonor and unhappy to believe that evil must come to the country because of it.

Hull's Nomination.

The nomination of Mr. George B. Hull, made by the democrats of the Seventh ward last evening, for the vacant seat in the council, is one which will meet the expectations of the city in general. He is a thorough business man, and capable in every respect. The council board needs just such men as Mr. Hull in its membership, and when gentlemen of his standing in the community can be prevailed upon to accept nominations to fill thankless but important positions, there should be no question about their election. Mr. Hull has already shown his ability to serve the people of the Seventh ward and Toledo faithfully, and his choice on August 5 will be hailed with satisfaction by all lovers of good government.

To Be Sure, No!

Of course there's no politics in the Homestead affair. Every republican that so declares goes on to prove it by printing column after column of alleged argument for protection, with different phases of "Homestead," that need skilful manipulating, for a text. This proves that "there's no politics in it." The iron and steel industry that has been boosted by the government until it overtops and bids fair to crush out hundreds of lesser industries, insisting upon a reduction of wages in the face of a law made for "protection to labor"—of course there's no politics in it, and the wicked democrats who try to "drag it in," ought to be ashamed of themselves.

The developments in the examination by the board of revision of Street Commissioner Bower's manner of doing business is interesting, to say the least. For a public official, in charge of one of the most important branches of the city government to permit the conduct of his financial affairs in such loose manner, is certainly to invite severe criticism, and the sooner the system is corrected the better for all concerned. The public will look to the board of revision to probe the muddle to the bottom, and will not be satisfied with anything short of the plain observance of the law made for such cases. The investigation thus far makes a bad showing for Mr. Bower, and it does not appear how he can explain his affairs, but of course, it is proper to suspend judgment until the investigation is completed.

There are certain sounds Mr. Murat Halstead knows when he hears them. He says, "Mr. Quay talks man fashion about the election." Well, nobody ever accused Mr. Quay of braying like a beast. He stands charged with several other offenses, to be sure, but not that. Mr. Halstead explains his rather equivocal laudation by saying: "He (Quay) does not regard the presidential contest wholly a matter personal to the president, or consider that there is need that machine men should be greased or bargained with."

Oh, doesn't he? Then his various journeys to Washington and conferences with the president didn't have any grease pot in them.

A Chicago organ says: "How is this? the governor of Pennsylvania is a democrat, Gen. Snowden is a democrat, the sheriff at Homestead is a democrat and Bob Pinkerton is a democrat." Looks as if democrats were pretty good men to put in places of trust, doesn't it? And that, having been given the public offices, they inspire confidence by faithfulness to duty to the letter, regardless of politics or personalities. This is something republicans, as a rule, are not able to comprehend. Bob Pinkerton is about the only one the republican organs have chosen to commend.

The New York Recorder says, "socialism and anarchy must be stamped out in this country," with one stamp, as it were, which shows that the Recorder man is well posted. Socialism is all law, vested in that mythical wise thing, "the government;" anarchy is no law, or every man a law unto himself. These men who want to do so much stamping would better do a little studying.

Senator Dalzell represents to his brother senators that the confirmation of Mr. Shiras "will greatly benefit the party in that part of Pennsylvania where, as a result of the Homestead trouble, he has a hot fight on his hands for re-election." Hopeful there are other and better reasons than these, for Mr. Shiras' appointment, but Mr. Dalzell shows the true republican spirit in his cogent reasoning.

Western journals are quite freely predicting that Nebraska will cast its electoral vote for Gen. Weaver. None of the parties hold their state conventions until next month. A governor is to be chosen and other state officers, besides representatives in congress and members of both houses of the state legislature.

Madame Potter Palmer is the recipient of a letter from Pope Leo XIII in which he expresses willingness and desire that the women of the catholic church shall take active part in the woman's exhibit at the World's Fair.

Americans haven't the cholera scare very badly. Eight ocean liners crowded with passengers left New York for European ports Saturday.

CAPT. H. E. HOWE TALKS

Regarding the Recent Thumb-Stringing Episode,

And Marvels at the Beauties of Protection Under Which One Class Lays Up Millions, While Another Class Are Paupers.

A Bee met Capt. H. E. Howe as he was reading the dispatch of C. S. Burgoyne wherein he offered a check to pay for the prosecution of the officers who had a hand in stringing up a soldier by his thumbs at Homestead, the story of which is well known.

The captain was very indignant. To the Bee he said: "Burgoyne's telegram was 'apples of gold set in pictures of silver.' In my case, it helped to fill not a 'long felt want,' but a deeply felt want. I wanted to hear from somebody in protest against the cowardly crime and criminal act exhibited in the thumb-tieing brutality.

"I was talking to-day with a French gentleman who was in that short but terrible Franco-Prussian war of '70; he said if that had happened in his army the boys would have been in arms against the outrage.

"I regret to add," continued Capt. Howe, "that he told the truth, as I believe, when he said this shameful act will give the United States an unfavorable regard in Europe.

"I have talked with three of the three-years' boys in blue, who told me of instances where boys tied up by the thumbs were cut down by the indignant soldiers. I, myself, saw the men whom I commanded, cut down a victim of the thumb torture. You see it was difficult to court-martial a whole company. Two of the sergeants of Col. Howe's Second regiment who have served years in the regular army told me to-day that thumb-tieing punishment is unknown there. Flogging in the navy was long ago abolished by act of congress. This man Streator has inflicted an awful torture without warrant. No; he would not have warrant of law. If his superior officers approved his infamy so much the worse.

"The Homestead affair brings us face to face with the question of the hour. Honest Old Abe's statement as to what would be the next question to confront America is verified. Oh, the beauties of protection! There's something radically wrong in society when so many are millionaires and so many paupers. I suppose our clerical friends who have been so uneasy about Sunday ball will go for Streator, don't you?"

WRECKED IN A GALE.

The Yacht Wanderer, of Erie, lost off Dunkirk.

Erie, Pa., July 27.—News has just been received here that the sailing yacht Wanderer, owned by Frank W. Bacon and W. L. Varnum, of this city, was wrecked off Dunkirk in a gale Sunday afternoon. A fish tug out of Dunkirk while going to raise nets this morning found the spar of the wrecked yacht, to which were clinging the two members of the crew. Capt. Thomas Stick was found unconscious and taken to Dunkirk for medical treatment. He will probably die. His companion, Lon Granzow, aged 18 years, was dead when found. Both men had been dashed about on the spar of the wrecked yacht for 38 hours when found.

REPUBLICANS OF OHIO

W. I. Squire, of Toledo, Will be in the Front Rank.

His Clubs to Carry the Coal Oil Torches.

David Robison of Toledo, Refuses to Serve in the Executive Committee.

Columbus, July 27.—In response to the call of Chairman Dick, the executive state republican committee held a meeting in the campaign headquarters last night.

There was a general response to the call, and not only were nearly all of the committee present, but there was a goodly gathering of prominent republicans from all parts of the state, who take an active interest in the coming campaign work.

Hon. S. M. Taylor came down from Urbana, and Hon. William H. Hahn from Mansfield, to lend his voice in experience meeting. W. I. Squire, of Toledo, arrived early in the day, as president of the Ohio Republican league, and with Secretary W. Z. McDonald the services of the league were offered in assisting the campaign work.

This offer was gladly accepted.

The discussion of opening the campaign in all of its activity brought forth many views. Chairman Dick was of the opinion and the rest of the committee agreed with him, that the stump speakers would not go into the field until September.

The middle of that month was, therefore, set for opening the work. The meeting was conducted behind closed doors and the following were present: Chairman Charles W. F. Dick, Secretary Malloy, Treasurer George W. Sinks, F. S. Purcell, Logan; W. H. Clifford, Cleveland; George K. Nash, W. H. Roney, and John M. Doane, Columbus; Harry S. Griffith, Mt. Gilead; Henry L. Morey, Hamilton; William Ford, Cincinnati; J. J. Grant, of Canton, is out of the state. M. A. Hanna, of Cleveland, explained his absence by letter. Colonel J. C. Howe, of Kenton, is in camp with his regiment. Dr. Lowes, of Dayton, detained by sickness. R. F. Hayward, of Springfield, was called back by telegram and they constitute the remainder of the committee.

Chairman Dick announced that David Robison, of Toledo, had declined to serve on account of business engagements.

Chairman Dick was authorized to confer with the state central committee in regard to filling the vacancy as the executive committee has not the authority. The following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the chairman and secretary of this committee are hereby authorized and empowered to do all things which in their judgment are necessary for the successful conduct of this campaign, except where otherwise directed by this committee, and that the other members of the committee will render such aid as the chairman may request.

Resolved, That such meetings shall be held as the chairman may appoint, and that he shall call a meeting of the committee on the request of four members thereof.

President W. I. Squire spoke quite interestingly upon the proposed mass meeting to be held at Woodsdale island, Butler county, September 10. It will be a regular love feast of the Ohio republicans, with many eminent men present, among whom will be President Harrison, Hon. Whitelaw Reid, Secretary Charles Foster, Gov. McKinley, ex-Gov. Foraker, Senator John Sherman, and other leading republicans. Nothing will be spared to make this meeting a grand and happy success.

TOLEDO RAILROAD MEN

Receive Letters From the Grand Officers

Of the Various Railway Organizations Relative to the Coming Big Gathering at Manitou Beach.

Toledo is a big railroad center, and in consequence the numerous railroad organizations are unusually strong in this vicinity. In fact, there are so many in the various orders and brotherhoods that they have had but little opportunity to come together and get acquainted. The local division of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers thought it would be a good idea to arrange a basket picnic at one of the various resorts in this vicinity. The other organizations talked the matter over and agreed it would be just the thing. It was then decided to invite the official heads of the various organizations to be present and make addresses. Manitou Beach on the C., J. & M., was selected and the date set for Sunday, August 7. In response to invitations sent out by the Toledo railroad men the following answers have been received by Secretary W. H. Young, of the local division of the O. R. T.:

Terre Haute, July 26.

W. H. Young, Dear Sir and Brother: Your favor of the 16th inst., asking me to be present at your picnic at hand. I desire to heartily thank you for the kind remembrance, and you can rest assured if I can arrange matters and put my business in such a condition as to permit of my being with you nothing will give me more pleasure. Wishing you and yours success,

Very truly yours,
F. P. SERGEANT,
Grand Chief Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen.

Grand Chief Conductor E. E. Clark, of the order of Railway Conductors, writes as follows:

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, July 23.

W. H. Young, Dear Sir and Brother: Returning to the office this morning I find your favor of the 11th inst., kindly inviting me to be present at your entertainment on the 7th of August. I desire to thank you and your division for your kind remembrance and to assure you that if my business is in such a condition as to admit of my being with you, it will afford me great pleasure to do so, and to become acquainted with many of your members and take you once more by the hand. Wishing you complete success in every way, I am,

Yours truly in P. F.,
E. E. CLARK.

Grand Master Frank Sweeney, of the Switchmen's Mutual Aid association, writes:

Chicago, July 15.

W. H. Young, Dear Sir: I am exceedingly thankful to the members of division 37, O. R. T., for their kind consideration of me in extending an invitation to be present at the excursion and picnic, August 7. At this minute I am unable to give you a definite reply, but should business permit I will avail myself of your hospitality. The dates of my whereabouts are so uncertain I don't like to make promises and afterwards be compelled to violate them. With kind regards to the members of division 37, I am fraternally yours,

FRANK SWEENEY.

Grand Chief Ramsey of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers of North America, writes from Vinton, Ia., as follows:

W. H. Young:

Dear sir and brother: I am in receipt of your favor of the 21 ult., extending me an invitation to attend your picnic excursion and I desire to say that I would be delighted to attend it if it is possible for me to be there at that time. I will say, however, that we have so many schedules on hand now that I will be on the road continuously for some time and it is not at all certain that I will be able to be at Toledo at the appointed time. If, however, I can arrange it so to do I assure you that I will be glad to be there. Yours in F. F.,

D. G. RAMSAY.

Grand Chief Arthur, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, seldom accepts an invitation. He is quiet and retired, so the following letter from Cleveland was no surprise:

W. H. Young:

Dear sir: Am in receipt of your kind invitation to attend your excursion and picnic. I regret to say that previous business engagements will prevent my being present with you upon that occasion. I trust it will be one of profit and pleasure to all who may be permitted to participate. I have written to assistant Grand Chief Youngston, who no doubt will be present. Thanking you for your kind invitation I am, yours very truly,

P. M. Arthur.

From subsequent letters it appears that all the above officials with the exception of Mr. Arthur will be here, and Chief Arthur will send a substitute.

The number of railroad men who will be at this gathering with their families runs up into the thousands. It will be the largest gathering of railroad employes ever held in this part of the country.

THE HOTEL VICTORY.

An Explanation From United Press Agent E. M. Williams.

To the Editor: Last night's Blade makes a silly attempt to locate the responsibility for the rumor that Hotel Victory at Put-in-Bay had been destroyed by fire on Sunday afternoon. After commenting editorially upon the report, the Blade says:

"The Blade immediately wired Sandusky for the verification of the United Press dispatch which brought the fire news to Toledo. The answer was as above. It turns out that the report was a fake sent out by the United Press. The Blade's news report, by the Associated Press, did handle it."

I would respectfully inform the Blade that The United Press did not bring "the fire news to Toledo." Neither did we send out the report of the alleged disaster from this or any other station. The United Press does not circulate news matter which is based upon rumor, without first investigating the truth of such rumor. The rumor in this case originated in Cleveland on Monday morning and was found to be groundless. On Tuesday morning the rumor had reached Toledo, and was again investigated, with the same result, and we paid no further attention to the matter. But "the Blade's news report, by the Associated Press, did handle it," as it usually does, for fear of being scooped by its young and vigorous competitor. The Blade, in endeavoring to cover the blunder of the Associated Press, seeks to throw the responsibility upon The United Press, and in doing so utters what might be termed a malicious falsehood, were it not so ridiculously silly.

E. M. WILLIAMS,
United Press Agent.

THE DEMOCRATIC RALLY

Fixed for Thursday Evening August 4,

When it is Hoped the Weather Clerk Will Give Toledo Democrats a Show for a Ratification.

Hon. Frank H. Hurd announced at last Monday evening's meeting that adjournment would be taken until next Monday night. It is found, however, that the hall cannot be had for that time and arrangements have been made for Thursday evening, August 4, one week from tomorrow night.

This will give timely notice to every citizen of Toledo, especially the working classes, to whom Mr. Hurd's address will be largely directed, to so make their engagements as to leave Thursday night unoccupied to attend the ratification meeting.

The Bee scarcely needs to refer to Mr. Hurd's well known ability as a speaker, and to remind the people that his subject, "Protection and Wages," will furnish much food for earnest thought. This is conceded even by the most bitter opponents in the republican party. Suffice it to say, those in attendance will enjoy a rare exposition of the fallacies of the protective system ,and it is hopped a large crowd will be present.

Remember the date and place—Thursday evening, August 4, Memorial hall.

AN OSSIFIED GIRL.

She is Eighteen Years Old and Weighs Only Twenty-Eight Pounds.

Kansas City, Mo., July 27.—Thomas Clemons, a farmer who has been living in Paul's Valley, I. T., came here yesterday to seek medical aid for Rose Lee Clemons, his 18-year-old daughter. The girl is slowly becoming ossified.

She was born in Tulare county, California, and at birth weighed only one pound, but was well formed. Since then her development has been slow. She is only 4 feet tall and weighs 28 pounds. She has not a bit of flesh, her skin being drawn closely over the bony frame work of her body. She cannot talk because of a malformation of the tongue, but understands what is said to her and answers by signs. She has never been at all ill and eats heartily. Her head is well formed and she has bright brown eyes.

The work of ossification has been slow. She can still move her arms and legs, but they are becoming stiff. She has of late been perfectly helpless, and her death is only a question of time. Mr. Clemons sold his farm and has spent almost all the money he had in a vain effort to cure the child.

Yesterday she was examined by Drs. Cruger and O'Neil, who said nothing could be done to save her life. Mr. Clemons has been ill himself, so Dr. Cruger secured the admission of himself and his daughter to St. Margaret's hospital. Clemons' wife died nearly two years ago, and since then the old man has not been away from the child for more than an hour or two at a time.

SEVENTH WARD CAUCUSES

George B. Hull Nominated by the Democrats,

And Albert C. Osborne by the Republicans for the Vacant Seat in the Council.

Caucuses were held in the Seventh ward last night, to nominate a candidate for the vacancy in the council board caused by the resignation of R. P. Swain. For the short notice, there was a fair representation at the meetings.

The democrats met at Louis Young's store, corner Cherry and Bancroft streets, C. T. Lewis was elected chairman and A. W. Machen secretary. A ballot was taken for a nominee, and George B. Hull was successful over M. Thies. Mr. Hull is one of the Seventh's most popular residents, having already served in the council. He is a member of the firm of Brown, Eager & Hull. His return to the council will be a wise move for the city at large. Careful and prudent in all his relations, he is of the material that should make up this important branch of the city government.

The republicans met in their wigwam. Col. Snead was chairman and Carl Beckham secretary. A. C. Osborne was nominated over W. J. Albrecht, who was defeated for the second term last spring. Mr. Osborne made a speech of acceptance, but did not express much hope of election.

The nominations were certified to the board of elections, and the tickets will be prepared.

Election occurs August 5, under the usual rules.

The generators that George Westinghouse is building to furnish electricity for the 93,000 incandescent lamps at the world's fair are to be the largest in the world. One of them will operate 20,000 lamps. "The ordinary generator supplies but 1,200 lamps," Mr. Westinghouse said, "and most of them less. Our larger generator will supply 20,000 lamps, and most of the others will be of 10,000-lamp capacity each."

The largest grain elevator in the world was built at Minneapolis Junction in 1886. The main building is 336 feet long, 92 feet wide and 175 feet high. Its storing capacity is 2,000,000 bushels of grain.

THE WEATHER.

Let's Talk a Bit of this Heat We're Having.

Weather Man Hanner Says a Cool Wave is Coming

For Which the Suffering Community Will Doubtless be Truly Thankful — A Chapter About Thunder Storms.

"Saved at seven."

There is a cool wave coming, and it is due this week.

"You may inform the people that there is cooler weather on the way," said Observer Hanner to a Bee. "That it will begin Thursday and continue the remainder of the week."

"We have been having the maximum temperature of the year," continued Mr. Hanner, "and it is very probable that this point has been reached in this section of the country, and it will begin to decrease from this on until winter.

"You would not believe me probably, if I told you it was warmer in Toledo yesterday than in New Orleans. Here is the report just received from that station, which states that the maximum temperature of yesterday was 78 degrees, while here it was 95 degrees.

"In most portions of the United States the maximum temperature is reached in July. In southern latitudes this point was reached some time ago. This state of temperature always occurs during the longest days of the year. We are in the midst of that period at the present time, and this point will not be reached in districts north of us, say Montreal and vicinity, until the middle of next month. The theory generally prevails that the maximum temperature of a day occurs at noon-time, or in other words that noon is the hottest time of day. Well, this is all wrong at this time of year, and in this section of the country. The maximum temperature occurs at a time between 3 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon. It is explained by learned meteorologists that the maximum temperature is reached at that time of day when the amount of heat received by the earth from the sun is just equal the amount lost by the earth by radiation.

"The minimum temperature of a day depends wholly upon the length of the day. This in turn is affected by the time of the year and section of the country as I explained to you a moment ago."

"What is the temperature to-day?"

"It is now 11 o'clock, and the temperature is just 88 degrees, in the shelter, which barring unforseen cooling conditions, will climb to 95 before the maximum of to-day is reached."

Thunder Storms.

"I have been thinking for several days," continued Mr. Hanner, "that we have been having thunder storms with unusual frequency, and this morning I looked the matter up to satisfy myself. I find that I was right. We have had thus far this year as many thunder storms as any year since 1885. The records show that in 1884, we had 31 thunder storms; 1885, 25; 1886, 24; 1887, 21; 1888, 16; 1889, 21; 1890, 24; 1891, 17; thus far in 1892, 24. We will at a low estimate have 10 thunder storms yet this year, which will beat the record of eight years. The greatest number in any one month was 14, in June, 1884; next greatest 9, during May, and the same number in June, 1892.

"The records show thunder storms most frequent during May, June and July, averaging four, seven and five respectively.

"Thunder in the winter is a rare occurrence, but we have had it. During a term of nine years there have been thunder storms, one in January, two in February, one in November and one in December.

WEST VIRGINIA.

Democrats Turn Out in Large Numbers.

A State Convention to Last Two Days—Great Interest Shown.

Parkersburg, W. Va., July 27.—Democrats from every county, town and village of West Virginia are in possession of Parkersburg to-day, and are waging one of the hottest convention battles that have been fought in the state.

In point of size the state convention will be the largest ever held in the state. There will be about 1,200 delegates to cast 750 votes of the organization. Besides these there are 1,200 others in the city.

Prominent democrats all over the state are here. The two fights to which most interest attaches are governor and auditor. Five candidates are in the field for the gubernatorial nomination and the selection will have a marked effect in determining the other nominations. The convention will be called to order at 10 o'clock.

Gov. Fleming will be temporary chairman; there will be a fight over the permanent chairmanship. No one seems to have any clear idea of how things will end and the situation can be best expressed as being in an awfully mixed condition. The convention will probably last for two days.

DESPERATE FIGHTING.

Natives Supplied with Firearms Do Disastrous Work.

Berlin, July 27.—The Cologne Gazette alleges that African natives, who recently repulsed Baron Von Bulow's forces in the Moshi territory, near Kilima-Njaro, had been supplied with a large number of Snider rifles and 30,000 catridges by the British East Africa company.

In the fighting between the German forces and the natives Baron Von Bulow, Lieut. Wolfram and twenty of the Soudanese soldiers attached to the expedition were killed.

Eugene Wolf, the newspaper correspondent in German East Africa, telegraphs to the Tageblatt that Dr. Stuhlman, the second in command in Emin Pasha's expedition, is ill at Bagamoyo and that he is lying at the point of death.

A BOGUS NOBLEMAN.

William Wilson Gets Himself Into Trouble.

He Has Been Swindling People All Over the United States.

New York, July 27.—William Wilson, who for two years past has traveled over the country as Sir Edward Cook, cousin of Earl Dudley and Lord Mandeville, is a prisoner at police headquarters. He took his arrest with great nonchalance, laughed when identified by his victims, and even told Inspector Steers that he could give points to New Yorkers on police work, as he had been at the head of the New Zealand force once.

Wilson, passing as an English nobleman, swindled extensively in the west, coming to grief in Denver, where he was imprisoned for six months. Upon his release he came to this city and made a specialty of swindling jewelers. Complaints poured in to Inspector Steers. While it is not known how many firms were nipped, enough complaints have been found to insure the bogus nobleman a long term in prison.

A CAREER OF CRIME.

Missouri's Worst Prisoner is J. W. Johnson.

His Deeds Are the Most Atrocious That Can be Credited to a Human Being.

Jefferson City, Mo., July 27.—J. W. Johnson, the worst criminal ever confined in the Missouri penitentiary, made an unsuccessful attempt to escape. Since he set fire to the penitentiary in 1883, entailing a loss to the state of some $300,000, and one-third as much to private individuals, he has been kept confined in a cell to himself most of the time, day and night.

He picked the lock on his cell door with a wire contrivance he had doubtless spent months in making, and once in the corridor began making a murderous assault on the guard, Walker Goodall. Although a cripple from a recent injury, the latter defended himself from serious harm until assistance arrived, when Johnson was overpowered and placed in a cell.

Nothing is known of Johnson's childhood. He began his criminal career in Missouri by committing a bold highway robbery in Shelby county in 1882. While in jail he nearly killed a guard in an unsuccessful attempt to escape.

He had only been in the penitentiary a short time when he scaled the wall, and would no doubt have escaped had he not broken a leg in jumping to the ground on the outside.

Once out of the hospital he planned a general escape of convicts and with three desperate companions set fire to the prison. The fire occurred at noon. Johnson overpowered a guard and changed clothes with him.

In this garb he expected to safely approach a guard who had command over a gate of egress near the river. A large building containing straw for a collar factory was fired, but when Johnson approached the guard he was recognized and driven back at the muzzle of a shotgun. For this crime he received 12 additional years in the penitentiary and was closely confined.

Two years ago he tried to brain a guard who brought him a bucket of water. Several times he was placed on his good behavior and put into the yard to work, but every time his murderous disposition returned. One of his latest ruses to escape from the penitentiary was to write a long confession acknowledging himself to be the murderer of Miss Joe Watkins, who mysteriously disappeared from St. Louis ten years ago.

The effort was so clumsy and replete with errors that it did not work. Johnson is about 35 years old and a physical giant.

He has yet 14 years to serve in the penitentiary if old charges are preferred against him. He has given the prison authorities more trouble than any 50 men ever confined in the penitentiary. Kindness has no effect upon him whatever.

NO CHOICE MADE.

The Fifteenth District Republican Congressional Convention Takes Nearly Two Hundred Ballots.

Zanesville, O., July 27.—When the Fifteenth District republican congressional convention took a recess last evening after the one hundred and second ballot, the chances for a nomination were equally as remote as when the convention was called to order in the morning.

Judge E. J. Brown, of McConnellsville, is the chairman of the convention, and Hon. Frank Martin, of Caldwell, is secretary.

In the first ballot Guernsey cast 34 votes for J. D. Taylor, Morgan cast 24 for E. M. Stanbery, Muskingum cast 61 for H. C. Van Voorhis, Noble cast 24 for J. M. Dalzell, and Washington county 48 for General R. R. Dawes.

There was no change throughout the 102 ballots except a slight inclination on the part of Morgan to flirt with the other counties from the sixteenth ballot. At 6 o'clock a recess was taken to 8.

Seventy-two ballots were taken at the night session without any variation from the first ballot of the convention. At 10 o'clock adjournment was taken until 9:30 this morning. The indications to-night are that Van Voorhis, of Muskingum, or Dawes, of Washington, will be the nominee, with the chances in favor of the latter. Both have large delegations from their home counties, which comprise more than half of the convention and which never desert them.

BAND OF OUTLAWS.

Horrible Story Comes From Pennsylvania.

Jack Cooley Captured and Killed, and His Death Avenged in a Terrible Manner.

New York, July 27.—A special dispatch to the World from Uniontown, Pa., states that Jack Cooley, leader of the notorious band of outlaws in that state, was captured and shot last Friday.

His last words were, "See that my death is avenged."

On Sunday Cooley was buried, and then his band began its work of revenge. Wesley Sisler, who aided in the capture of the leader, was overpowered at his home in Haydentown and pinioned. His only child, a young girl, was then assaulted by members of the band. The helpless father's cries for help were stifled and his struggle for liberty ended by a blow from a musket butt.

The band then departed, apparently selecting this mode of revenge as more cruel than physical punishment or death.

The facts came to light yesterday from the sheriff, who arrested a man named Rankin, said to have succeeded Cooley as leader, for sheep stealing. A sheriff's posse will start in pursuit of the band at once, and lynching is threatened.

Among the new cadets at West Point are a son of Gen. John Pope and grandsons of Gen. Sherman and Gen. C. F. Smith. This appearance of succeeding generations of a family as students at the National Military Academy is unusual enough to evoke comment, but it is a common occurrence at civilian colleges. Among the undergraduates of Harvard to-day there is a representative of an old Boston family which for seven generations has sent its sons to the Cambridge university.

Capt. R. H. Pratt, of the government Indian school at Carlisle, Pa., wants to place 300 of the young Indian scholars at the Carlisle school in the civic parade at the time of the dedication of the world's fair buildings. Capt. Pratt desires also to have a full military band, composed exclusively of these Indian scholars. He intends to make at the fair an exhibit illustrating the educational and training work of the Carlisle school.

The Marquis de Lacaze, of Paris, has a portrait of George Washington, made by Stewart, an American painter, which he offers to lend to the world's fair at Chicago. It was taken to France by his wife's grandfather, at one time minister to the United States. As the portrait is by an American artist, it cannot be exhibited in the French section, but the Marquis de Lacaze offers to send it over if the government will pay the charges, which it undoubtly will do.

HARD TO EDUCATE THE RUSTIC.

"The man who invented the soap dispenser—that nickel-plated arrangement that emits a dash of powdered soap when you pull the string," recently remarked the clerk of an uptown hotel much patronized by the truly rural, "has been the cause of much mental disturbance to our firm.

"Being slightly weary of having our cake soap stolen with distressing regularity, we replaced it with these new arrangements and put one of them in each bathroom in the house.

"Printed instructions accompanied each one, but that didn't seem to help things along at all.

"The first rumpus was kicked up by a delegate from Lonelyville, who thought the soap was a new brand of tooth powder, and used it accordingly. This little experience has been repeated quite frequently since, and it generally takes us quite a time to explain things and keep the sufferer from wrecking the place.

"A second superstition seems to prevail among the feminine guests that the dispenser contains face powder put there specially for their use, and when they discover their mistake they look upon it as a personal insult and raise a row of large dimensions.

"I tell you what, it's going to take a long time to educate the rustic mind up to that soap dispenser, and before that end is arrived at there'll be a new stock of comic wheezes on the subject that'll drive the old ones about ringing up the fire engines and blowing out the gas to the wall."—New York Commercial Advertiser.

DID IT?

Did it ever occur to you—
If a man wants an office—though little or loud,
He must give up his business and run with the crowd;
That tho' votes ain't for sale, but the man with the cash
Is always elected—goes in like a flash—
Did it ever occur to you?

Did it ever occur to you—
That the day of the patriot's not in the land;
That the cards are all tricked that they deal to his hand;
That the office which seeks him is always the one
From which ever'body will get up and run—
Did it ever occur to you?

Did it ever occur to you—
That for all of the schemes which are worked by the many,
There are men far too noble to bend unto any?
Aye! men who in poverty playing their parts,
Have robes that are spotless—clean hands and clean hearts—
Did it ever occur to you?

FIVE MONSTER RATS.

The following is a specimen of modern Chinese fiction, done into English by a scholarly Chinese citizen of New York and printed in the World.

In Tsing Wo Hien there lived a Sho Toy, or scholar, by name Yuen, with his wife Ho Shi, a flowery beauty with neat needle fingers and a heap of intelligence. Yuen started one day for Tung King to undergo the civil service examination for the Chin Su degree. When he went he told his beautiful wife to take care of herself.

With him went his house boy or servant. The two had walked for several days when they came to a mountain, at the foot of which there was a new inn. The top of this mountain reached to the sky. It was covered with great, dark woods and huge rocks and bottomless pits were scattered all over.

Out of these came monstrous and mysterious things in plenty. Five monster rats were in the habit of walking down out of the western sky. They lived on human blood. They understood all about transformations, and their favorite amusement was to turn themselves into buncosteerers and lie in wait for travelers from the interior with plenty of wealth. Sometimes they changed themselves into beautiful women to fascinate men's brothers and sons, and other times they became beautiful young men to captivate rich widows.

They were all monsters from the biggest to the smallest, and they called themselves, according to size, Mr. Rat No. 1, Mr. Rat No. 2, and so on. Their abode was called the Whi Ting Rocks. On the day when Yuen came to the moutain Mr. Rat No. 5 happened to be looking for him. When he saw Yuen and the house boy sit down by the roadside his face smiled and he bowed.

"Exalted sir," said he, "where do you come from and where do you go? Will you not stop for the night at my inn?"

Yuen and the house boy quickly replied: "We are from Tsing Ho Hien and want to go to Tung King for examination. We will gladly stay here for the night."

At this the old man was very joyful and prepared a dinner for them, with wine, and he sat down and ate and drank with them. He also talked ancient and modern history and his language flowed easily as the water of a brook. Mr. Yuen marvelled at this.

"How does he converse in this manner," said he to himself. "He is only an old innkeeper."

So he said to him: "Most venerable sir, are you one piece graduate?"

"No," replied the monster, "not quite. I went to the national examination hall three or four years ago, and although my essay was high class, I no catch him degree. My heart is outraged. I throw down books and come here to keep inn."

The three men ate and drank till it was far into the night, when suddenly the monster blew a mouthful of air in Yuen's face and Yuen fell down in a fit. His house boy quickly raised him up and put him on the bed. He was very sick with a sickness of the stomach, and the boy did not know where to obtain a doctor. Just then daylight came. Yuen and the boy found themselves at the bottom of a big pit among the rocks and there was no old innkeeper. With much difficulty they climbed out of the rocky pit and found their way to a house where Yuen got nursed.

In the meantime Mr. Rat No. 5, who was the old innkeeper, gave a kick of his right foot and instantly became another Yuen, just the same as that Sho Toy all over and he went straight to Yuen's home in Tsing Wo Hien.

When he entered the house young Mrs. Yuen happened to be in her boudoir combing her hair. She had no doubt that she saw the smiling face of her husband before her. She was delighted but surprised, and asked him why he came back after only twenty days.

The monster answered: "I had almost arrived at Tung King when I met other candidates returning, who told me that the examinations were already over. Therefore did I not enter the city."

"But where is the house boy?" she then asked.

"Oh, I left him behind to enjoy himself and come home when he liked," said the monster.

Mrs. Yuen was very joyful, and she made haste to catch and prepare a good dinner. The two sat down together, and she treated him in all things as her husband. Yuen's friends and relatives all came to visit him, and none knew that he was visiting a counterfeit Yuen.

The genuine Yuen was delayed long by his sickness, and when he went on his way to the city Tung King he did indeed meet many candidates, who told him that he was too late, and he did not enter the city, but turned homeward.

The little piece house boy was so joyful that he walked too quickly and got home first. Mrs. Yuen and her sham husband were drinking wine together when he arrived. The monster scolded the boy, saying, "Why have you come home so slowly?" And the boy did not know what answer to make.

Just then the true Yuen came in at the gate very tired. Mrs. Yuen looked very foolish. Then the two Yuens fought and they rolled over all in a heap.

The poor woman did not know which husband to take, and so she went with both of them before the Wong Chin Shon, the Provincial Governor. He was much surprised to see two men exactly alike, but he was crafty. He whispered in the ear of Mrs. Yuen to ask her if her husband had a birth mark by which she might know him. She told him that her husband had a black mole on his right shoulder. The Wong Chin Shon examined one man and found he had a mole there. Then he ordered that the other should be locked up, but when the soldiers examined him they discovered a mole on his right shoulder also. So the Wong Chin Shon locked them both up till the morning.

When the monster was inside he chuckled gently to himself, gave a kick with his right foot and became a rat once more. Then he went away to his mountain and fetched Mr. Rat No. 3 to take in the fun. When the Governor, Wong, entered his court in the morning he was amazed to meet another Governor Wong. He ordered the soldiers to arrest the bogus Governor, but they couldn't tell which was the true Governor, and so there was confusion.

The real Governor then fled to the Emperor himself at Tung King, the Emperor Yin Choong. And the Emperor said he would set his exalted mind to the clearing up of the mystery. But the next day he was mystified, too, for there was another Emperor just like himself in the palace and the Empress Tai Ho herself could not tell which was her true sovereign.

But the Viceroy, Pow Fun, was a good and wise man, who knew more than them all. He ruled the people for their own good and never took any money but his salary. The Emperor, having called for him, he came to Tung King to look at the two Emperors, the two Governors and the two husbands.

He talked to each one and then went back home, where he shut himself up in a room and told his wife not to come near him. For three days and three nights Pow Fun washed himself and for three days and three nights he lay on his bed as if he were dead. And his spirit went up to the western heaven to see the angel who superintended supernatural things on earth, Woo Ti Goon. The latter summoned Tien Shi, the angel that kept the key of the monster cave. He was about to punish him for his bad memory, but first he counted his fingers and toes and remembered that there had been a holiday yesterday for the monsters on account of the twin stars' birthday, which occurs once in ten thousand years. In that heaven a day is the same as a year on the earth.

"Go down to the earth, my son," he said to Pow Fun, "and catch the big tom cat of the men of Chung Wong and let him sit in the judge's seat and decide the case of the double men."

When Pow Fun awoke his wife brought him a good dinner and fine wine. Then he went out and caught the big tom cat in the temple of the Chung Wong men.

Many came to see the tom cat acting as judge. He opened his big golden eyes and said "Ung-oo-oo-oo" and leaped on top one of the false Emperor Yin Choong, who fell down and turned into a big gray rat. Then the tom cat ate up the big gray rat. And he turned one governor and one husband into two rats and ate them up. Now there are only two monster rats left in the Whi Ting rocks to have fun.

CAUTION.

Imitations have been put upon the market so closely resembling Allcock's Porous Plasters in general appearance as to be well calculated to deceive. It is, however, in general appearance only that they compare with Allcock's, for they are worse than worthless, inasmuch as they contain deleterious ingredients which are apt to cause serious injury. Remember that Allcock's are the only genuine porous plasters —the best external remedy ever produced; and when purchasing plasters do not only Porous Plasters.

SHE MAKES A MISTAKE.

The Girl Who Only Tries to be Agreeable to the Men.

She is out in force, yet if she only knew it she is entirely on the wrong track, this girl who only exerts herself to be agreeable to the men. A man likes much better a woman who is popular with her own sex than one who openly shows that she has no use for women and whose only ambition lies in the direction of masculine conquest. Such a girl, of course, has attention; in fact, she compels it. But of what sort is the admiration she receives? It is either from young boys, minus money, standing or position, who are sincere, or from men about town with experience of world grounded in them, who have no thought of anything serious, and who, when they marry, will probably choose a demure little creature, whom a man might imagine as the head of his house and the mother of his children. The stylish girl who has no desire to please a woman is not the one a man is looking for to fill the postion of a sweet, true wife in his home and heart. There are no "wifely" qualities as a man said the other evening, about such a one. She goes in for those attributes that attract a man but fail to hold him. A woman to seem desirable must be essentially feminine to begin with, which means she must be a woman's as well as a man's favorite, and not consider the love and friendship of a sister woman beneath her notice. Like a man's man, she must enjoy a general rather than a one-sided popularity and show that there are attributes about her that are pleasing as well when no masculine eye is present as when she is the center of a group of men admirers.

The probability of a gift by Edward F. Searles, of the Hopkins mansion, to the San Francisco Art association has aroused the keenest interest among lovers of art on the coast. San Francisco is rich in fine private collections of pictures, but not one of these is ever thrown open to the public. In this palatial Hopkins building the art association would soon be able to gather a loan collection of great value.

ARGUMENT. The American Publishing Company, of Jersey City, N. J., have undertaken to guarantee to their Advertising patrons a total circulation for their various papers of not less than ONE MILLION. This means an addition of 500,000 to our present lists. It has been said that to secure a half million new subscribers in six months is a business impossibility. This is probably true by ordinary or common methods, but NOT TRUE when the effort is associated with the kind of enterprise that appears in this prospectus. Five hundred thousand new subscribers will mean to us more than $500,000 of advertising revenues during the next five years. We can afford to pay for them at least half their value to us. We are willing to do even more than this, if necessary, and to that end have originated the fairest and most ingenious plan of distributing Cash Premiums or Rewards of Merit among new subscribers that the world has ever known. The plan or method is in conflict with no law against lotteries or schemes of chance; it involves nothing that is illegal or immoral; it places a premium on brains; it is, in short, the very essence of what is commendable, honest, liberal and attractive.

CASH FOR BRAINS

For CORRECT ANSWERS to ANY ONE of the following Ten Word-Riddles the American Publishing Company will pay the following

CASH REWARDS

For a correct answer to any ONE word,	$20.00	For a correct answer to any SIX words,	$150.00
For a correct answer to any TWO words,	$50.00	For a correct answer to any SEVEN words,	$175.00
For a correct answer to any THREE words,	$75.00	For a correct answer to any EIGHT words,	$200.00
For a correct answer to any FOUR words,	$100.00	For a correct answer to any NINE words,	$225.00
For a correct answer to any FIVE words,	$125.00	For a correct answer to all of the TEN words,	$250.00

As SPECIAL GRAND REWARDS we will Pay in Cash:

For the FIRST correct answer to ALL of the entire Ten words, $5,000
For the SECOND correct answer to ALL of the entire Ten words, $3,000
For the THIRD correct answer to ALL of the entire Ten words, $2,000

Here are the Ten Word-Riddles—Can You Solve Any of Them?

1	B-rn--	A NAME MADE FAMILIAR BY GREAT ADVERTISING TO EVERY MAN, WOMAN AND CHILD WHO HAS EVER VISITED A CIRCUS.
2	-ea-ty	A CHARMING QUALITY WHEN POSSESSED BY WOMEN, THAT ATTRACTS THE ADMIRATION AND OFTEN WINS THE LOVE OF MEN.
3	Bl---e	WAS NOT CONSIDERED DESIRABLE AT THE MINNEAPOLIS NATIONAL REPUBLICAN CONVENTION BY A MAJORITY OF THE DELEGATES.
4	-le------	SERVED TO DEFEAT JAMES G. BLAINE FOR THE PRESIDENCY IN 1884.
5	-ol---	THAT WHICH YOU CAN SECURE TO THE AMOUNT OF $5,000 IF YOU WIN THE FIRST PRIZE HEREIN OFFERED.
6	-r-ss	THAT WHICH WOMEN KNOW HOW TO WEAR TO BETTER ADVANTAGE THAN MOST MEN.
7	-i-ht	SOMETHING WHICH JOHN L. SULLIVAN, CORBETT, JACKSON, SLAVIN AND OTHER BIG PUGILISTS EXCEL IN.
8	-ar-i--n	OCCUPIES THE MOST RESPONSIBLE AND FOREMOST POSITION CONNECTED WITH THE GOVERNMENT AND PROTECTION OF THE PEOPLE AGAINST FOREIGN OR HOSTILE NATIONS.
9	-ict--e	THAT WHICH PLEASES OR SATISFIES THE EYE, AND WHICH, IF ARTISTICALLY EXECUTED, ATTRACTS THE ATTENTION AND EXCITES THE ADMIRATION OF LOVERS OF THE BEAUTIFUL.
10	Qu-e-Vic-----	PROBABLY CONSIDERED OF GREATER CONSEQUENCE AND MORE SOUGHT AFTER BY THE IDLE, EXCLUSIVE AND TITLED ENGLISH NOBILITY THAN BY THE AVERAGE BUSY, HUSTLING AMERICAN.

Explanation. Each dash appearing in the partially spelled words indicates the absence of a certain letter, and when the proper letters are supplied the original word selected to form each Riddle will be found complete. EXAMPLE: H-r-e, something every farmer should possess. In this case the omitted letters are o and s, and when properly inserted the completed word is HORSE.

REWARDS paid in cash the VERY DAY any answer is found to be correct.

Each answer will be numbered as received, to be examined in the order of its number, and when found correct a New York Certified Bank Check for the full amount of whatever reward such correct answer secures will be sent the VERY DAY the award is made.

REMEMBER If you only solve one word you will receive $20 in Cash; you are not confined to any particular word—any one of the entire ten will bring you a $20 cash reward—while if you are bright enough to solve more than one your reward will be increased in proportion from $50 to $250. Also remember that you do not have to be first, or last with your answer. EVERY correct answer for even a single word wins a splendid cash reward.

The Only Condition.

The object of this extraordinary offer is, of course, to secure Subscribers at once and in large numbers. We therefore require that 50 cents for a year's subscription to some one of our papers shall be remitted with every answer. We publish four great papers: The American Fireside, The American Homestead, The American Household Journal, and The American Cottage Home. Name your choice of any one of the four—they are all the same price, 50c. a year. If you send answers to more than one word you must send a separate name and 50c. for every word you answer. Thus, if you send answers to two words, send an extra name besides your own and $1, and so on—one name and 50c. for a year's subscription for each word you answer. The total amount of cash rewards that you receive for correct answers can be divided pro rata among the list, or you can keep it all, just as you arrange between yourself and those whose names you send. In every case we will pay the full amount of the reward for correct answers to the person who sends the names.

Don't send answers without subscriptions—they will receive no attention and cannot possibly win a reward even if correct.

Protection. As a means to guard against even an appearance of irregularity or collusion, a copy of the original ten words selected to make up the above Word-Riddles is deposited with Mr. C. P. SMITH, Superintendent of the Jersey City Police Department, under seal, to be opened December 31, 1892, in the presence of witnesses, after this contest closes. The complete list will be printed in full in the January issues of our four papers, so that all who have not received rewards for correct answers will know wherein they failed. This method of protection is due to all concerned, and absolutely prevents everything that is not wholly honest and fair to every subscriber.

DESIGNATE THE WORDS YOU ANSWER BY THEIR NUMBERS, and be wise and send your answer at once.

Address all letters and make all remittances payable to the Treasurer of the American Publishing Co., as follows:

Rev. Mr. Hutchinson's Babe a Rugged Youngster.

Unstinted Praise From the Presbyterian Manse at Freeport.

The Great Demand for Lactated Food Proves its Unequaled Worth.

Every mother will be interested in the following letter from Rev. John Hutchinson, of Freeport, N. Y.:

Presbyterian Manse,
Freeport, N. Y.,
July 6, 1892.

Wells, Richardson & Co.:

Gentlemen:—We send you by this mail a picture of Master Donald when he was fourteen weeks old and had used lactated food for twelve weeks. We consent to the publication of his picture and the facts in his case, because we are confident that what has proven such a blessing to our child and to us will bless many other little ones and their parents. He has been fed on lactated food by the advice of Dr. W. M. L. Fiske, of Brooklyn, and he sleeps well nights, crows and laughs all day, and is the happiest, rosiest, sturdiest little fellow that ever filled parents' hearts with delight. The food is all that is claimed for it. The starch and cane sugar of other foods would make fat, but it is the solid bone and flesh, and rosy, rugged health, from using lactated food, at which we rejoice. Sincerely yours,

Rev. and Mrs. John Hutchinson.

Blessings His.

Lactated food is the one artificial food that develops a child's bones and muscles and which is easily digestible, as Rev. Mr. Hutchinson's letter and the picture of Donald prove. It contains no cane sugar, and, when prepared for use, is a delicious diet that the little ones like.

Infants who are fretful, peevish and run down by the hot weather, at once begin to gain when fed with this food. They eat it with evident relish and grow strong and well.

Its great worth is proven by the large demand the druggists everywhere report. Although physicians freely prescribe it, no prescription is necessary to obtain it. All druggists sell this pure food, and 25 cents will buy enough to make ten pints of a nourishing preparation that prevents cholera infantum; even cures the dread disease, and gives joy to every mother who uses it for her child.

DECLARED INVALID.

Decision Regarding the Law Which Prohibits the Sale of Liquor Near Soldiers' Homes.

Dayton, O., July 27.—The one-mile limit law enacted last winter and which prohibits, with severe penalties for a violation, the sale of intoxicating liquors within one mile of the boundary line of the Soldiers' Home, was declared unconstitutional in the common pleas court yesterday.

The law was passed for the purpose of getting rid of numberless saloons and dives immediately outside of the home grounds, and which fed and thrived on the blood and pension money of the old soldiers.

The majority of the saloons closed following the enactment of the law. Its constitutionality was successfully attacked, however, by a notorious dive-keeper. When the decision was announced, beer wagons were as thick as leaves along the avenues, lanes, and gullies about the home. The law is regarded as in contravention of section 26 article 2 of the state constitution, and as of being of local application. The Soldiers' Home at Sandusky is similarly affected by the adverse decision.

BUSCHOFF GOES FREE.

His Arrest Was Purely Persecution.

End of a Sensational Trial and Narrow Escape of an Innocent Man.

Berlin, July 27.—The long drawn out prosecution of Buschoff, a Jew residing at Cleves, and who was recently accused of having murdered a Christian boy for ritual purposes, has at last come to an end, and the absurdity of ever having brougth charges against the man is now apparent, even to the most violent of the anti-semitic party who are responsible for what has turned out to be a disgraceful persecution of an innocent man.

The dead body of a boy named Hegemann, was found in a stable about two months ago, and it had bene mutilated in a way that suggested some anatomical knowledge on the part of the murderer.

The discovery caused intense excitement in the town, and suspicions fell on the Jewish butcher Buschoff.

The case was taken up in the most violent manner by the anti-Semitic agitators, who roundly alleged that the boy had been murdered in oredr that his blood might be used for Jewish ritual purposes.

This charge was repeated in public meetings, and in pamphlets which were distributed broadcast.

Buschoff was arrested and brought to trial, and after a prolonged investigation he was released, the evidence against him being insufficient.

A month later after the popular agitation had reached an extraordinary pitch, he was rearrested, the police having obtained fresh evidence, and he was eventually sent for trial before a jury.

The proceedings were prolonged. The number of witnesses for the prosecution were 99, while 18 came forward for the defense. Upon the prisoner being called upon by the judge to say whether he was guilty of not, Buschoff declared in the most emphatic terms that he was guiltless of the crime imputed to him.

The presiding judge in opening the proceedings pointed out to the jury that the sole motive put forward in the indictment was that Buschoff desired to take revenge on the boy because he had damaged some Jewish gravestones. The evidence brought forward by the procesution was of so flimsy a character that the jury, although containing several who are known to be in sympathy with the anti-Semitic party, was obliged to acquit the prisoner.

JULEP STRAWS OF TO-DAY.

First Brought Into Use by a Yankee—Now Brought From Europe.

He was a man with a mind for details, and the straws through which he was absorbing a mint julep attracted his attention.

"Where do you get them?" he asked of the barkeeper, indicating the little yellow tubes.

"Buy 'em from peddlers," replied the mixer of drinks.

"And where do the peddlers get them?"

"Dunno. Never asked 'em. What's yours, sir?" and the barkeeper turned to a company of new-comers, who didn't ask fool questions about things that could not possibly help swell the bar receipts.

But the man with the mind for details had also more than the average amount of persistence. Having, therefore, determined to find out where the julep straws came from he went to work on the problem with the most commendable industry, and after several days spent in investigation he learned all about them from the head of an importing house in Barclay street. This gentleman told him and a New York Times reporter that straws had been in use only about 35 or 40 years. Previous to that time people who drank juleps, lemonades and other smaller mixtures either took them as best they could directly from the glass or employed little glass tubes which were kept for the purpose in every first class barroom. But those who have attempted it can testify to the unsatisfactory results of trying to drink out of a glass filled with a promiscuous assortment of ice, lemons, strawberries, etc., and the glass tubes acted as a damper on julep drinkers who had advanced ideas on cleanliness.

In this emergency an ingenious Yankee arose, as ingenious Yankees always do, and came to the rescue with the julep straws of to-day. It occurred to this Yankee that there was a great deal of waste in the rye straw that was raised at that time in northern New York and Massachusetts for braiding. The thick ends of the straw were useless in making braids and were invariably thrown away. As an experiment a lot of these ends were bundled and sent to the market for bar purposes. Their success was immediate. When the raising of rye straw for braiding purposes died out in this country, because the grain crop was found to be more valuable than the straw, the supply of julep straws of course went with the other industry. The saloon men thereupon turned to Switzerland, where straw braiding is one of the chief pursuits of the peasants, and subsequently to England. The chief source of supply is now found in the latter country.

The straws are cut green before the grain matures, and bleached with sulphur. They pass from the hands of the producers to the control of London commission houses, from which they are bought by the importers in this city and Philadelphia. It is said that there are not more than four houses in the trade, the straws being generally handled by firms engaged in the importation of china and glassware. The straws are put up in bundles of 500, fastened together by rubber bands. Forty dozen of these bundles are packed in a case, and in this shape they reach the United States. None of the straws, according to the local importers, are used abroad for drinking purposes, and none are produced here to speak of. But despite this fact there is a "protective duty" of 35 per cent. levied on them, though exactly whom it sought to "protect" is not very clear. The straws sell at retail—that is, to the saloons—for 25 cents per bundle of 500. They are purchased from the importers by dealers in bar furnishings and peddlers, the latter of whom take them around at regular intervals to the saloons on their "route."

REPUBLIC OF MEXICO.

Great Improvement and Advancement of Our Southern Neighbor.

Fifteen years ago, Mexico had but 280 miles of railroad; she now has 4,700. Fifteen years ago, the treasury was bankrupt, and she had no assured national income; to-day, her financial situation is entirely satisfactory, her taxes are regularly collected and she has an assured income of more than a hundred million dollars, and last year showed a surplus of receipts over expenditures. Capital has been flowing to her from every part of the world. Her mines, her forests and her fields are producing in abundance, and she is the favorite of all lands for the investor. Schools have been established in every part of the republic, and an earnest effort is being made to give all her children a thorough and systematic education. There is still a great deal of ignorance, superstition, and incapacity, among her people, but the generation which is coming on will inevitably be superior to the generation which preceded it, and each succeeding generation we may fairly count upon as being destined to surpass its predecessor. The march of civilization is like the progress of the avalanche. Its start in the upper regions is slow and tedious; you can hardly see it move. But it gains impetus with every foot of its progress, and after a while its course is so swift and powerful that no obstacle can stand in its path. Diaz has fairly started the ball of education and civilization in Mexico. It is growing more and more every year and will soon become the resistless avalanche, and I think that many of us here to-night may reasonably hope to live to see the time when Mexico may fairly claim to stand in the front rank of the civilized nations of the earth.

I will not say that all this has been the work of this one man, for he has had the substantial support of his whole people and the special and invaluable assistance of many able and earnest compatriots, among the best and greatest of whom is Senor Don Matias Romero, Mexican Minister to the United States, and our distinguished guest to-night. But I will say that, during the last fifteen years, there has been no man upon the face of the earth, be he king or czar, ruler of a monarchy or of a republic, whose personality has stood for so much, whose personal influence has been so great, and to whom it has been given to accomplish such a work for good, as Porfirio Diaz. Of him, more truly than of any living man, may it be said he is a nation-maker.

I have been comparing to-night the English and the Spanish capacity for colonization and civilization. I should be doing injustice to Mexico if I failed to draw one more comparison in her favor.

Our Declaration of Independence was made in 1776. It was written by Thomas Jefferson. In the draft of it, as Jefferson drew it, will be found a declaration against slavery. The convention struck that part out. The declaration as adopted was a cry for freedom, but for freedom for white men only. In the constitution which we adopted in 1789, slavery was formally recognized as a legal institution, and there was contained in it a provision making it impossible to abolish the slave trade for more than twenty years afterwards.

The first Mexican congress assembled at Chilpancingo on the 14th of September, 1813, and it was by this congress that Mexico's Declaration of Independence was made, and by the same act she decreed the empancipation of the slave.

Forty-four years afterward, in 1857, after the triumphs of the Liberal party under Juarez and Diaz, the representatives of the people of Mexico assembled to adopt a new and more liberal constitution, better fitted for her new environment and for the progressive spirit of the age. The second article of that constitution is as follows:

"In the republic, all men are born free. Slaves who set foot upon the national territory recover by that act alone their liberty, and have a right to the protection of the laws."

This was six years before Abraham Lincoln dared, as a war measure, to issue his proclamation of emancipation, and eight years before our constitution was amended so as to make slavery unlawful; and who of us does not remember how much of suffering and of sorrow, how much of struggle and despair that eight years stands for? Mexico was wise enough, to engraft at the first in her Declaration of Independence, and imbed deep in her original constitution, this provision for liberty which it cost our nation such untold blood and treasure to finally secure.—Speech at the Romero Dinner.

THE LADIES.

The pleasant effect and perfect safety with which ladies may use the California liquid laxative Syrup of Figs, under all conditions, makes it their favorite remedy. To get the true and genuine article, look for the name of the California Fig Syrup Co., printed near the bottom of the package.

The value of a good name was well exemplified the other day, when a man asked one of our druggists for a bottle of Sarsaparilla. "Whose?" inquired the clerk. "Whose? why, Ayer's, of course. Ye don't suppose Im going to run any risks with Hannah, do ye?"

The salaries of clergyman and choir master in New York are 5 to 1, according to the New York Sun. The average ministerial salary in the United States is $700, ranging from $60 to $25,000. Dr. Morgan Dix of Trinity gets $20,000; Dr. Talmage gets $12,000, supplemented by literary endeavors to about $20,000; Dr. Taylor of the Tabernacle gets $16,000; Dr. Paxton $12,000, raised from $8,000; Dr. Wilton Merrill Smith received $7,000 his first year. His neighbor, Dr. Lloyd, has $6,000. Dr. MacArthur has $8,000 and received a purse of $1,000 the other day in addition to a farewell send-off down the bay. Dr. Bitting, of the Mt. Morris Baptist church, declares that "it is good for his congregation to pay big salaries—they can and they've got to." Dr. Zubeck of Zion and St. Timothy has $6,000, Dr. Henry M. Saunders $8,000, and each of the pastors of the Collegiate Reformed Dutch churches gets $8,000.

Advice to Mothers of Fretful Babies.

828 Huron St., Toledo, O., July 17, '92.
Hand Medicine Co., Gentlemen:

My baby is now three months old and has had colic all her life. We gave her all kinds of remedies without any beneficial effect. I was almost discouraged in trying anything else when a friend told me of your Dr. Hand's Colic cure. I gave her 12 drops which acted like a charm. Now as soon as I discover she has wind colic I give her one or two doses which relieves her entirely. I want to advise all mothers who have fretful babies to use Dr. Hand's Colic Cure. I will hereafter always keep it in the house.

MARKETS OF THE WORLD

Weekly Review of the Weather and Crops.

The High Temperature Favorable for Corn.

Trading in the Toledo Board of Trade—Quotations From all Over the Globe.

The receipts of wheat to-day at Minneapolis and Duluth are 196.531 bus., and at five other western points 717,968 bu., aggregate 814.499 bu. On the corresponding Wednesday in 1891 the receipts were 775.052 bu., with only 76,664 bu. of northwestern wheat.

The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports were, wheat 223,456 bu. and flour to an aggregate of 300,000 bu.; export of corn 23.103 bu., and of oats 28.340 bu.

English markets are firmer with only light demand for wheat and corn.

Careless loading of wheat in the interior leads to some loss. We have twice called attention of shippers to careful inspection of cars before loading, to know that all leaking places are stopped, and now we want to talk about boarding of car doors. Green sycamore lumber is unsafe. We have two cars in here to-day boarded with that kind of lumber, and it has warped out of shape so as to open cracks and waste the wheat. Two other cars have knot holes in the boards through which the grain has escaped. Shippers are not sufficiently careful. Take the same care of your wheat as you do of your money.

The Markets To-Day.

The receipts of wheat since July 1, 1892 and 1891, at Toledo, Detroit, St. Louis, Chicago, Milwaukee, Duluth, Minneapolis and Peoria have been as follows: In 1892, 12,803,000 bu.; in 1891, 12,291,000 bu. But the receipts of northwest have been, this year, in the same period, 5,808,000 bu., against 2,877,000 bu. in 1891. The movement of wheat in July of either year is large.

Bradstreets' report of the visible supply makes wheat increased east of the Rockies 461,000 bu. On the Pacific coast increased 435,000 bu. Aggregate, 896,000 bu. Corn decreased 325,000 bu.

The wheat markets on this side of the ocean have been moderately active, but at lower prices. Rain in the west and northwest and a cooler temperature had a tendency to cool the heads of dealers in wheat. There does not appear to be a pronounced bull interest in wheat that stands by it, and not much of a short interest to steady it on the break advices bring.

We print the weekly government report, but there is nothing new in it. It is the old story—sections where the wheat quantity and quality is good, and others where it is poor.

Corn has disappointed the speculators. The rains west relieved the anxiety about drying up, somewhat, and the government report was encouraging.

Foreign markets present nothing interesting at close. Paris is higher, and others lower. England will follow us down, but will go up slow.

In New York August wheat closed at 83 1-2c, a loss of 1c. September at 84 1-4c, a loss of 5-8c. August corn at 55 3-4c, a loss of 1c. September at 55c, a loss of 3-4c. August oats at 35 3-8c, a loss of 3-8c.

In Chicago August wheat closed at 77 1-4c, a loss of 1c. September at 77 3-4c, a loss of 7-8c. August corn at 50c, a loss of 3-4c. September at 49 1-2c, a loss of 1c. July oats at 31c, a loss of 1-8c.

In Toledo business in wheat futures remains dull. We have had a weak market with most of the trading in August and September. On the regular board opening prices were 1-8c to 3-8c lower, and the market rather steadily declined to the close at a loss on July of 3-4c, August 5-8c and September 7-8c. On the call board July sold at 80 3-8c. August at 80c, and September at 80 3-8c. After the call July sold at 80 1-4c and closed at 79 3-4c. August sold at 79 7-8c and closed at 3-8c. Septmeber sold at 80 1-4c and closed at 79 3-4c. Cash wheat was in good request with sales of 80,000 bus. No. 2 soft sold at 80c and closed at 79 3-4c sellers. No. 3 soft at 73 1-2 to 73 3-4c. Aug. at 73 1-2c, 73 1-4 and 73 1-2 No. 4 soft at 70c. Rejected No. 1 at 69c. Weavily at 72c. Sample at 73c. Corn nothing done. About 1c lower to sell. Oats—No. 2 for August at 31 1-4c. Rye No. 3 at 62c.

Clover seed was 5c lower. Sales for October at $5.45.

Weather and Crops.

Washington, July 27.—The high temperature has been especially favorable to the crops in the corn states. The week has been unusually dry over the great portion of the central valleys and Southern States. Special telegraphic reports:

Pennsylvania—Rain badly needed.

Mississippi—Conditions favorable after late wet spell; cultivation being pushed and crops improving; growth of cotton and corn too rank.

Louisiana—Cotton grassy and shedding; some cane being plowed with good results; rice continues very promising.

Texas—Cotton would be benefited by a general rain, but the plant is not suffering except in a few of the western counties.

Arkansas—Weather generally favorable for cotton; corn doing well, but will need rain soon; large crop of hay saved in good condition.

Tennessee—Tobacco and late corn needing rain; sorghum fine.

Kentucky—Corn and tobacco doing well; wheat threshing progressing.

Missouri—Haying, harvesting, stacking, threshing, and weeding late corn progressing favorably; wheat yield fair; oats very poor; corn booming.

Illinois—Corn making excellent growth; hay and wheat harvested except in northern counties.

Indiana—Conditions favorable to corn, harvesting hay and threshing wheat; rain needed for all growing crops; wheat nearly all threshed; hay secured.

West Virginia—Wheat finest yield in years; hay, crop and quality good; oats, large yield, fine quality; corn, prospects flattering; buckwheat doing well; potato crop medium.

Ohio—Threshing wheat and oats, and haying in progress; corn tasseling and growing well; potatoes and tobacco in fair condition; grapes rotting considerably; showers needed.

Michigan—Haying progressing finely; wheat mostly harvested in good order; threshing commenced; corn, beans and potatoes need cultivation.

Wisconsin—Warm weather beneficial to all crops, especially corn and potatoes, which are rapidly catching up; winter wheat, rye, and barley harvest commencing.

Minnesota—Conditions favorable to corn; too warm for small grains; haying advanced; some rye cut; barley and oats nearly ripe.

Iowa—Most favorable week of the season for pushing corn; oat harvest begun in southern districts; some damage by rust.

North Dakota—Much rust in wheat; rain needed in western portion.

South Dakota—Weather favorable for corn and haying; warm for most small grains; barley and rye harvest begun; earliest wheat ripening.

Nebraska—Small grain in northern part of the state injured by drought; corn has made good progress, but has been retarded some by drought.

Kansas—Harvesting nearly completed in north portion; corn in localities slightly suffering from drought.

Oklahoma—Late corn, cotton and grass suffering from drought; threshing, haying and plowing progressing.

Montana—Hay harvest begun, hay short but thick; Flathead country greatly suffering from drought; rain needed for grain.

Wyoming—Irrigated crops doing well.

Colorado—Good corn growing weather; barley being cut; too hot for grain that is not yet ripened; potatoes doing well.

New Mexico—All crops and fruit have improved rapidly; grass on cattle ranges greatly improved.

Arizona—All crops progressing favorably except in central and northern portions, where they are suffering from drought.

Utah—Haying and harvesting in progress.

Washington—In western portion hay considerably damaged by rain; otherwise generally favorable week; grain harvest begun. In eastern portions grain filling well and prospects for fair yield greatly improved; hay heavy; fruit good yield.

Oregon—Fall wheat harvesting in progress, turning out better than expected; spring grain improving; hop lice increasing; potato crop short; corn doing fairly well.

Ohio Crop Report.

Williams—Wheat cut, in barn or stack. Hay nearly all cut—quality good, quantity above the average. Oats ripening; dry weather is injurious to oats and corn. Montpelier, rainfall .06 inch.

Defiance—Good haying weather—very hot and dry. Wheat harvest over—threshing begun. Corn growing fast.

Paulding—Corn and potatoes suffering for want of rain. Dry weather has enabled farmers to get in considerable good timothy.

Fulton—Wheat cut. Cabbage fine. Haying about done. Corn and potatoes doing well, needs rain. Threshing in progress, quality fair. Pasture short. Wauseon, rainfall .08 inch.

Henry—Wheat harvest over. Threshing begun. Hay about all made. Showers would help corn and potatoes.

Putnam—Weather favorable for farm work. Wheat being threshed. Hay about all made. Leipsic, rainfall .25 inch.

Lucas—Wheat nearly all cut. Hay well along. Weather excellent. Corn very small and potatoes poor. Toledo, rainfall .09 inch.

Wood—Grass all cut. Wheat harvest over and threshing commenced. Corn backward, but growing nicely. Needs rain.

Hancock—Wheat threshing begun. Oats ripening. Hay about all made. Corn small, but growing fast. Findlay, rainfall .27 inch.

Ottawa—Weather fine. Corn and potatoes growing fast. Apples look well but peaches have about all dropped. Grapes affected by mildew and rot. Oats ripening. Two-thirds wheat threshed—not up to expectations.

Sandusky—Weather hot. Crops need rain. Hay all saved, a full crop and in fine condition. Wheat threshing begun. Fremont, rainfall, trace.

Seneca—Harvest over; threshing commenced. Weather has been favorable. Corn doing nicely. Oats ripening. Timothy hay about half cut. Corn needs rain. Grapes rotting rapidly. Tiffin, rainfall .21 inch.

Wyandot—The drouth is injurious to the corn, potatoes, pasture and vegetables. Hay nearly harvested. Upper Sandusky, rainfall, .23 inch.

Crawford—Droughty conditions prevailed during the week. Harvesting progressing.

Erie—Some peaches in market. Farmers busy threshing. Corn and potatoes look well. Sandusky, rainfall .04 inch.

Huron—Weather extremely hot and dry. Shower Monday night helped corn. Haying progresses rapidly. Wheat harvest over—some threshing done. Oats turning. Grasshoppers plenty.

Wool.

SHOT HIM TO DEATH.

Murder and Suicide in Philadelphia.

Broker Page Dies at an Assassin's Hand.

A Customer Had Speculated and Lost, and Took This Means of Getting Even.

Philadelphia, July 27.—Charles H. Page, of the firm of E. D. Page & Brother, stock brokers, 132 South Fourth street, was shot and almost instantly killed in his office at 11:20 o'clock this morning by Ronald Kennedy, a customer, who had been dealing in margins with the firm for the past two years.

Kennedy, who was a Scotchman by birth, and who lived at No. 113 North Eleventh street, then placed the pistol to his own head and sent a bullet into his own brain, death being instantaneous.

The murdered and suicide is said to have lost between $15,000 and $20,000 since he began dealing with the firm and despondency over the losses is supposed to have been the incentive for the crime.

Charles H. Page was 32 years of age and lived at 2221 Locust street.

CHOLERA.

People in St. Petersburg Are Becoming Alarmed.

London, July 27.—A St. Petersburg dispatch to the Chronicle svs: "It is feared that cholera will soon appear here if the present warm weather continues. The death rate along the Volga is really greater than is supposed. The Saratoff, Listock reports 262 deaths in Saratoff on the 14th inst.

"Trade along the Volga is at a standstill. In the principal towns there are thousands of disaffected, half starving workmen who are only prevented from rioting by strong military forces.

No portion of the city is growing so rapidly as Fair Ground addition, near the Yost bicycle factory. Lots can be secured in this locality at from $200 upwards. Detwiler & Co. build houses and advance money to assist in building to buyers.

CHOLERA KEEPS THEM HOME.

Berlin, July 27.—A warning is issued by the National Zeitung to German merchants not to go to Nijni Novgorod fair, owing to the danger of cholera infection, to which they would expose themselves and Germany.

M'GONIGLE AGAIN.

The Doctor Can't Keep Out of Jail.

A Fugitive From Justice, He Is Arrested on a Similar Charge to the One He Was Evading.

Long Island City, L. I., July 27.—Dr. Henry C. McGonigle, of 257 West Twenty-Fifth street, New York, who was convicted of causing the death of Annie Goodwin, in Harlem, by a criminal operation, and who has been a fugitive from justice for many months, was this morning arrested, charged with causing the death of Mrs. Louisa Webb, of 400 Hamilton street, Ravenswood.

Mrs. Webb died yesterday, the autopsy showing, from the effects of malpractice. A midwife named Alice M. Bate, and the husband of the dead woman, Frank Webb, were also placed under arrest, charged with being implicated in the crime.

It is said that McGonigle has been for some time traveling between New York and Chicago under an assumed name and disguised, to carry on his old business whenever midwives had a job for him. Webb recently figured in the riots at Homestead as a Pinkerton man.

FOUR CONSPIRATORS DIE.

Sofia, N. Y., July 27.—The four convicts, Milaroff, Popoff, Gheorghieff and Karaguloff, sentenced to death for conspiracy against the life of Prince Ferdinand, were hanged to-day. The condemned went calmly to the gallows and made no demonstration. A large force of military guarded the place of execution and kept back the people who behaved in an orderly manner.

In Paint
the best is cheapest—

Strictly

is best; properly applied it will not scale, chip, chalk, or rub off; it firmly adheres to the wood and forms a permanent base for repainting. Paints which peel or scale have to be removed by scraping or burning before satisfactory repainting can be done.

Be sure that you have only strictly pure White Lead. The following brands have a reputation established, they are standard, and well known.

Pure White Lead
Tinting Colors

They are sold in small cans, one pound being sufficient to tint twenty-five pounds of strictly pure White Lead the desired shade.

In combination with strictly pure White Lead these colors make the best paint that it is possible to put on a building.

If you are going to paint, it will pay you to send to us for a book containing information that may save you many a dollar; it will only cost you a postal card to do so.

The Tug Chicago Sunk by the City of Concord.

Two Men Go Down to Davy Jones Locker.

Vessel Passages Through the Straits and Rivers—General Marine Intelligence.

Chicago, July 27.—The tug Chicago, of the Dunham line, and the steamer City of Concord, collided two miles of Hyde Park early this morning.

The tug was overturned and went to the bottom almost instantly.

Oscar Page, steward, and William Kopfer, linesmen, were asleep in the cabin and went down with the tug.

Captain Brandstretter got hold of a life raft and Engineeer Alexander Lang swam to the steamer, while Alexander Town, fireman, floated around until picked up by a boat from the steamer.

The captain of the tug claims that the steamer suddenly took a sheer toward him while the City of Concord states that the tug attempted to cross his bow. The tug will be pulled into shallow water and raised.

HEAT BULLETINS.

Albany, N. Y., July 27.—The terrible heat continues. At 11:15 o'clock this morning, with a good breeze blowing, the thermometer registers 87 in the shade, and should the breeze go down it will be stifling.

Rochester, N. Y., July 27.—The excessive heat continues. Some cases of prostration occurred yesterday. To-day the temperature is about the same as yesterday, and the humidity is increased.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 27.—This is the sixth day of the hot weather. The temperature this afternoon is 84.

No part of the city is growing so rapidly as Fair Ground addition west of Detroit avenue. The low price of lots and the many improvements insure a rapid advance of this property. Detwiler & Co. closed a sale of four lots there yesterday.

Many of the older citizens of Auburndale are inclined to feel displeased with the annexation which is now pending. They claim that it is only the people who have inhabited that region for a short time who favor the scheme. "If the line included West Toledo and the brick yard it would be more satisfactory," said a prominent citizen, "but to cut out irregularly, one little corner is most disgusting, and will not result advantageously to the majority of us."

A committee of Mansfield capitalists went to Toledo last night to confer with A. H. Shoen relative to the organization of the Mansfield Wheel company. Mr. Shoen will return to this city in a few days and complete the preliminary arrangements.—Mansfield Shield.

ONE WAY TO SAVE MONEY.

A newspaper reporter, who has wielded a pencil for various journals in this city for nearly a score of years, told an interesting story about himself to a party of congenial friends last evening that will bear repeating.

He said that during the earlier portion of his journalistic career he found it almost impossible to lay aside any money, notwithstanding the fact that he was then a single man and earned a first-class salary.

Try as he would, the money he received on Saturday for his week's work would slip away from him, and when Monday came around there remained nothing for him to do but to strike the cashier.

Finally the cashier became tired of being hit so early in the week, and the reporter was warned that he would have to give it up.

"I managed it one way and another," said the writer, "but after a time my friends also became tired, and I found myself in many embarrassing positions, until I finally hit on a peculiar but altogether satisfactory plan."

"And what was that," he was asked.

"Well, it was simply this: When I got my money Saturday afternoon I went over to the postoffice, purchased a registered letter, put a portion of my salary in it and then addressed it to myself at the office.

"Of course the letter was not delivered until Monday, and in that way I managed to get along all right and finally to save some money."—New York Commercial Advertiser.

AN ENTERING GROCER.

An enterprisinger has discovered a novel and highly sful way to secure and retain the c of all the servant girls in his neigh od. He bought at the price of waser a large quantity of yellow covere ny dreadfuls" and uses the single for wrapping purposes in such a r as will enable the girl after a certa ount of trade to secure the compl ory. Some very strange dialogue be heard in the store. The follow will suffice for examples:

"A loaf of bre ease, and wrap it in 'The Orphan's Wage 5."

"A lamp chi and give me the 'Blind Man's Cu hird sheet."

"Oh, my dear pleads another girl, "couldn't you gi e another copy of 'Slim Jim, the ard Terror?' Our dog has eaten th r."

"Why, how w t?"

"Well, you se my missus did not know the value story, and wrapped some scraps in r the dog, and he swallowed the w lot, paper and all."

"Here, miss, ur soap," continues the grocer, turn a third customer. "And please obs he wrapper. It contains the thrillin ry of 'The Crimson Stain; or, The e Bride.' You shall have the contion when you come again." And, tu to his assistant, he continues: "Her ns, mark down the lady for 'The Con Stain,' second sheet. She has ht the soap."—New York Herald.

THERE ARE MANY USES FOR SAPOLIO.
To clean tombstones. To polish knives. To clean dishes.
To renew oil-cloth. To scrub floors. To whiten marble.
To renovate paint. To wash out sinks. To remove rust.
To brighten metals. To scour bath-tubs. To scour kettles.
EVERYBODY USES IT.
Dentists to clean false teeth. Surgeons to polish their instruments. Confectioners to scour their pans. Mechanics to brighten their tools. Cooks to clean the kitchen sink. Painters to clean off surfaces.
Engineers to clean parts of machines. Ministers to renovate old chapels. Sextons to clean the tombstones. Hostlers on brasses and white horses. Artists to clean their palettes. Wheelmen to clean bicycles.
Housemaids to scrub the marble floors. Chemists to remove some stains. Carvers to sharpen their knives. Shrewd ones to scour old straw hats. Soldiers to brighten their arms. Renovators to clean carpets.
EVERY ONE FINDS A NEW USE.

To the Ladies:
Call for Fermentum, the only reliable compressed yeast, and see that unreliable goods are not palmed off on you. By using Fermentum you are sure to have good Bread and Biscuit.
